Red Ban Bill Snag Cleared

Senate Conferees OK Changes In Commie Outlaw Legislation

WASHINGTON (INS)—Senate conferees agreed Wednesday night to technical changes in a Communist-outlaw bill which they said removed administration objections to the embattled legislation.

Sen. William Langer (R-ND), who heads senators appointed to resolve the dispute, said: "I have signed the agreement and others are doing likewise."

Settlement of the controversy will smash one of the greatest barriers to adjournment of Congress this week.

The trouble arose over an amendment by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), to outlaw the Communist party by making membership in it illegal.

Those who worked out the compromise said that the new language makes the Communist party a conspiracy and membership in a conspiracy punishable by a maximum fine of five years in jail and a fine of $10,000.

New Language

The compromise was designed to alleviate administration fears that the new legislation would nullify or jeopardize anti-Communist laws already on the books

One of those involved in the negotiations claimed that the Justice Department favors the new language because under it the government would not have to prove conspiracy on the part of the Communist party.

The new language covers "Communist action" organizatitons rather than just the party. It is said to be acceptable to Humphrey and Senate Democratic leaders.

Three of the Senate conferees voted against the Humphrey amendment—Sens. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), John Marshall Butler (R-Md), and Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev).

GOP Arguments

The other two voted for the contested outlaw proposal—Sens. William E. Langer (R-N D), and Harley Kilgore (D-W Va).

An administration compromise worked out in the house would have outlawed the Communist Party as an organization by denying it political and legal rights but would not have made membership by individuals a crime.

Congressional Republican leaders argued that the Humphrey amendment would make obsolete the Smith Act by which the government has won conviction of Red leaders for conspiring to teach the overthrow of government by force and violence. They contend the Smith Act already constitutes an effective weapon against individual Communists.

They further warned that the Humphrey amendment would junk the Internal Security Act because the Subversive Activities Control Board has ruled members of the party must register with the Justice Department. If membership were made a crime, individual Reds could refuse to register on grounds it would amount to self-incrimination.

Special School Aid Bill Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Wednesday passed and sent to the White House a bill continuing for two years authority for federal aid in the construction of schools in areas where population totals have been swollen by defense and other governmental activities.

By a voice vote the Senate accepted a House amendment limiting the extension to two years, instead of the three year extension generally proposed by the Senate.

There was no official estimate of probable costs. Sponsors of the measure have said appropriations to finance it would not be requested until the 1955 session of Congress.

125 Homemaking Teachers Find Their Roles Reversed At Annual Conference

More than 125 high school homemaking teachers attending the annual Nebraska Vocational Education Conference at the Lincoln Hotel Wednesday through Friday found themselves in students' shoes Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Betty Huston of New York City, a University of Nebraska graduate, presented a morning discussion on shortcuts in the making of a simple blouse. During the afternoon and evening sessions Wednesday, the Nebraska teachers sat down at sewing machines and put Miss Huston's suggestions into practical use.

Thursday, Miss Huston will discuss fitting problems and Friday's discussion will center on making a skirt.

Four homemaking teachers—Mrs. Helen Friedli of Nehawka, Miss Lucille Brandt of Chappel, Miss Vaunden Nelson of Fairbury, and Miss Lorraine Brandt of York—will lead kitchen management discussions on Thursday and Friday.

Officers will be elected Thursday afternoon.

Saturday, the homemaking teachers join forces with the Nebraska Vocational Association for that group's annual convention. Officers, elected by mail ballot, will be announced.

Man, Wanted For Welch Threat, Held

WASHINGTON (AP)—A man wanted in connection with an alleged threat to kill Attorney Joseph N. Welch was captured Wednesday night at gunpoint in a stolen taxicab three minutes after a $20 holdup.

Capt. Michael J. Mahaney, of the special assignment squad, said "This man is definitely the one we have been looking for in the Welch case."

Police identified him as John Lockridge, 48, of no fixed address, "a well educated construction engineer."

Lockridge, who told police he had been drinking and had gone "downgrade" recently, denied he intended to harm Welch. Army counsel in the recent McCarthy-Army hearings.

Questioned at police headquarters after his arrest on charges of armed robbery and larceny, Lockridge said "As far as the Welch thing is concerned that it's just my wife's story. There is nothing to it. As a matter of fact I wrote Welch a letter telling him there was nothing to it."

Lockridge said he knew Welch because he and his wife had lived in Boston where Welch handled a trust fund for them. Lockridge told police he has been separated from his wife since March.

Lockridge's wife told Washington police two weeks ago that her husband, armed with a luger type pistol, was going to Boston to kill Welch. An alarm there resulted in a police guard for the 63-year-old Boston attorney. Capt. Mahaney said Massachusetts police were "tickled pink" Wednesday night when he reported Lockridge's arrest.

Coffee Prices Take A 10c Tumble Here

Most important news on the Lincoln homefront Wednesday was the cheering fact that coffee prices fell 10 cents per pound on the wholesale market.

Sam Poska, secretary of the Lincoln Food Retailers Association, said the coffee price dropped Wednesday from $1.22½ per pound to $1.12½ per pound wholesale.

Most retail markets in this area will reflect the drop Thursday with the lowering of retail coffee prices.

Poska said Lincoln wholesalers have been selling coffee at less than wholesale prices—$1.19 per pound. Retail prices have been pegged at approximately the $1.25 level. With the drop in the wholesale market price, coffee at retail should be about $1.18 to $1.20.

Files Will Be Made Public

Two Agencies Working Overtime To Extract TVA Dispute Documents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of two government agencies worked overtime Wednesday to make good on President Eisenhower's unusual offer to open the books on his controversial proposal for new private power facilities in the Tennessee Valley area.

Spokesmen for the Budget Bureau and the Atomic Energy Commission said a hurried search of files is being made to extract a "full and complete" set of documents, with the hope they can be made public Friday.

The President said at his news conference the previous day that any reporter could go to the two agencies and get the complete record of still unconcluded negotiations between the AEC and a Southern utility group to build a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark.

He Referred To Jones

The statement was in connection with charges by Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell that the President had ordered the contract over the protests of two government agencies and that one of his closest friends was interested. Mitchell's office said he referred to golfer Bobby Jones, a director of the Southern Co., which, with Middle South Utilities Inc., has offered to build the new 107-million-dollar plant to supply additional power to the Memphis area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

In a Senate speech Wednesday night, Sen. Reynolds (R-Neb) said Mitchell's attack threatened "to destroy the integrity" of the office of President in eyes of the world. Without naming Mitchell, Reynolds said:

"To create the impression that the chief executive of this nation would stoop to sharp practices is to present a sorry picture of the Amedican political system at work . . .

Days of Unrest

"In these serious days of unrest and indecision on the part of millions of people of the world there can be no justification for a purely political attack upon the integrity of the President of the United States."

The President defended Jones' integrity and said his action in this case, as in all non-security contractual relationships involving the United States, was open to the public.

A check showed no reporter could get closer to the documents Wednesday than the public information office of each agency. Spokesmen there said key officials were "too busy" assembling the material to talk to anyone about it.

One estimate was that the completed public file might be five inches thick and probably will include such material as memoranda to the President not ordinarily made public. It was considered possible also that some restricted documents might be de-classified in order to make them public.

Youths Confess To 'Thrill Slayings'

Crime Experts Baffled At 'Senseless' Murder And Mayhem By 4 Teenagers

NEW YORK (AP)—Crime experts threw up their hands, horrified and completely baffled at a senseless rampage of murder and mayhem by four teenaged boys from decent Brooklyn homes.

They apparently killed and maimed just for the thrill of it.

Is society at fault, as one lawyer suggested? Was it lack of supervision at home, as one father confessed?

Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver admitted in court Wednesday that he doesn't know the answer. He said:

Good Homes

"There's no greed, no revenge and no sex behind these crimes. What makes this case even more baffling is the fact that these youngsters, to the best of our knowledge, came from good middle class homes.

"What makes these boys go berserk and commit two homicides is something we're going to look into."

In the space of 12 days, the boys reversed a life pattern of decency to embark on a frenzy of brutality. They allegedly beat and kicked one man to death, tortured another and threw him to his death in the East River, whipped young girls, and viciously beat almost anyone who crossed their path.

They roamed Brooklyn parks in search of prey. Their arrest came after a passerby saw a man beaten.

'Good Boy'

Their parents, aghast at the ugly story unfolded by police, could only sob in bewilderment, one after the other:

"But my boy is a good boy."

Three of the boys—Melvin Mittman, 17, Jerome Lieberman 17, and Robert Thrachtenberg, 15—were held without bail on homicide charges. The fourth, Jack Koslow, 18, was held without bail on assault charges.

Silver said the three boys fatally beat a destitute alcoholic Aug. 6 for no apparent reason.

Koslow was accused of taking part in other, nonfatal assaults. All four boys allegedly fell upon a derelict Negro asleep on a park bench Monday, burned his feet with cigarettes, beat him unconscious and tossed him into the river.

Boys' Word

Since his body has not been found, the police have only the boy's word for this homicide and no murder charge has been placed in connection with it.

After their arrest, Silver said:

"They committed crimes for pleasure and hatred and got a kick out of seeing blood flow. I can't understand what would make boys do such terrible things."

Silver quoted Koslow as telling him of Monday night's torture and murder of the Negro:

"Last night was a supreme adventure for me."

No Emotion

It was the second gang of Brooklyn youths accused within six weeks of senseless homicide. Another group beat and stomped to death Thomas A. Condon, 40 last July 1.

In Felony Court Wednesday, Mittman, Lieberman and Trachtenberg, stood with no show of emotion, their eyes straight ahead, their bodies motionless, their tongues silent.

Edward Lentol, Lieberman's attorney, told the court:

"This is society's fault. Society should take the blame . . . Is it possible to lower the draft age to 16 and let them blow off steam in the Army?"

"I must say that's a very pretty speech," interrupted Silver. "We have a very serious situation of adolescents roaming the city streets hell bent for doing exactly as they please."

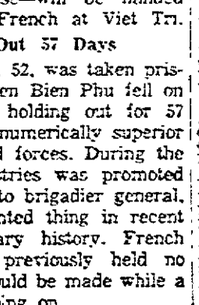
Transient Injured When Hit With Bottle

A 35-year-old transient, was hospitalized Wednesday night with injuries reportedly received when he was struck on the head by a whiskey bottle during an argument. A witness said the incident occured in a local hotel room. Police booked a 39-year-old Lincoln man on an open charge in connection with the incident. Hospital officials said he received a possible broken jaw and cuts.

Freedom Is Near For De Castries

Dien Bien Phu Hero Is On Exchange List

LONDON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, heroic French commander captured by the Communist-led Vietminh in the fall of the Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu, will be among 280 French officers to be freed in an exchange of prisoners, Peiping Radio announced Wednesday.



De Castries

The Communist broadcast gave no exact date, but dispatches from Hanoi said the exchange between the French and Vietminh was scheduled to begin Wednesday at Viet Tri on the Red River, 30 miles northwest of Hanoi, and at Sam Son on the coast 80 miles south of Haiphong.

Wife Overjoyed

In Paris, De Castries' overjoyed wife, Jacqueline, said she had been informed earlier by French officials that should the Reds release her husband he likely would be amopg the last to be exchanged.

"I would like to cry, to sing, to scream all together," she said when told of the Peiping broadcast heard in London.

French sources in Hanoi have estimated about 15,000 will be involved on both sides. The Peiping broadcast said 4,910 prisoners—4,590 Europeans and Africans and 320 Vietnamese—will be handed over to the French at Viet Tri.

Held Out 57 Days

De Castries, 52, was taken prisoner when Dien Bien Phu fell on May 7 after holding out for 57 days against numerically superior Communist-led forces. During the siege De Castries was promoted from colonel to brigadier general, an unprecedented thing in recent French military history. French governments previously held no promotion should be made while a battle was going on.

Taken prisoner with De Castries were about 7,000 officers and men, including foreign legionnaires, North Africans and Vietnamese.

HOLBROOK, Neb.—Three persons were killed and two others injured Wednesday in a two-car collision on Highway 6-34 1½ miles east of here in Furnas County.

The dead were:

I. M. Smiley, 76, Rt. 1, Danbury.

Smiley's wife, Gertrude, 63.

Roy D. Erickson, 44, of Los Angeles.

Erickson's brother, David, 38, and his son, David Jr., 13, are in fair condition at a Cambridge hospital, Dr. Clarence Minnick said.

The elder Erickson suffered a fractured arm and chest injuries. His son has fractured ribs, chest injuries and head cuts.

The Californians, who were traveling west, had been visiting a brother, John Erickson, at Hebron.

The car driven by Roy Erickson had gone off the edge of the highway, which was wet, State Safety Patrolman John Nelson said.

It skidded back sideways onto the road, Nelson said, and into the path of the oncoming Smiley car.

The front of the Smiley car collided with the left front door of the Erickson car, Nelson said.

The three deaths brought the 1954 traffic fatality count in Nebraska to 189. It was 170 a year ago.

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Senate House conference committee agreed Wednesday night on a bill appropriating two billion, 781 million dollars for the foreign aid program.

Agreement also was reached to allow the administration to retain all but 120 million dollars of 10 billion dollars in unspent funds appropriated in previous years.

The Senate initially approved two billion, 790 million dollars and the House two billion, 395 millions.

New funds appropriated for direct military aid and defense total two billion, 418 million dollars, compared with two billion, 564 million voted by the House and two billion, 437 million proposed by the Senate.

Axtell Farm Wife Seeks Legislature Seat:

Only Woman Nominee Says She'll 'Read All Bills'

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
Star Staff Writer

"My only campaign promise was not to introduce a thousand bills in the Legislature," says the only woman candidate nominated in the Nebraska primary for the Unicameral.

Mrs. Frank Foote, 27, Axtell, is running against Norris V. Swan of Hastings for the 31st District seat.

What the Legislature needs, the Kearney County farm wife says, is "someone who will read through all the bills, rather than introduce more of them."

Biggest problem for the Legislature next year, Mrs. Foote said, will be "taxes, schools and roads—that's for sure."

So she is campaigning on a promise "to do the best job of looking through the bills" introduced on those subjects.

Mrs. Foote refused all contributions for the primary campaign, she said, so that she would not be obliged to any special interests.

But, she said, some persons who offered contributions said they will send them to her anonymously so that she can't return it.

MRS. FRANK FOOTE

Friends first urged her husband to run for the Legislature, Mrs. Foote said, but "he knew he couldn't consider it seriously because he couldn't take that much time out from farming for a job with such a low salary."

So Mrs. Foote, a graduate of Leland Stanford University where she majored in political science and economics, decided to file for the office.

"After Mrs. Bowring was appointed to the Senate," Mrs. Foote said, "it seemed perhaps women should take an interest in our Nebraska Legislature."

The man who had filed in the 31st district "was the only unopposed candidate who was not an incumbent, and it did not seem right for this important position to go unopposed," Mrs. Foote said.

So, she said, "this seemed to us to be the year for my interest in government to become more active."

Mrs. Foote's campaign plans for this fall include more contact with women's groups, extension groups and the Farm Bureau.

She is legislative chairman for the Minden Woman's Club and a member of the local Farm Bureau unit and of the Presbyterian Church.

The Footes raise corn and alfalfa and have some livestock on an irrigated quarter section in Kearney County where they have lived the past three and a half years.

Mrs. Foote, the former Kathleen Ackerson, was born in Lincoln and lived here until 1942.

She attended Lincoln High School and was graduated from high school at Milan, Mich., where the family lived for a year while her father was on active duty with the Army.

After attending Stanford University three years, she was a researcher for the Curtis Publishing Company in Philadelphia for a year.

Returning to Stanford, she finished work on her B.A. degree and then worked for the University Press and Extension Division in Lincoln for six months.

Her husband, who attended college in California before serving with the Navy, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

If she is elected to the Legislature Mrs. Foote plans to live with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clifton Ackerson, 3707 Holdrege, while it is in session.

The Footes have two daughters Kathy, 5, who will enter kindergarten this fall, and Karen Jo, 2, who would attend nursery school here if Mrs. Foote comes to Lincoln.

NEBRASKA: Fair Thursday, warmer west and central; increasing cloudiness Friday, scattered showers likely extreme west; high Thursday 80-85 east, 85-90 extreme west.

Files Will Be Made Public

Two Agencies Working Overtime To Extract TVA Dispute Documents

WASHINGTON (AP)— Officials of two government agencies worked overtime Wednesday to make good on President Eisenhower's unusual offer to open the books on his controversial proposal for new private power facilities in the Tennessee Valley area.

Spokesmen for the Budget Burea and the Atomic Energy Commission said a hurried search of files is being made to extract a "full and complete" set of documents, with the hope they can be made public Friday.

The President said at his news conference the previous day that any reporter could go to the two agencies and get the complete record of still unconcluded negotiations between the AEC and a Southern utility group to build a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark.

He Referred To Jones

The statement was in connection with charges by Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell that the President had ordered the contract over the protests of two government agencies and that one of his closest friends was interested. Mitchell's office said he referred to golfer Bobby Jones, a director of the Southern Co., which, with Middle South Utilities Inc., has offered to build the new 107-million-dollar plant to supply additional power to the Memphis area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

In a Senate speech Wednesday night. Sen. Reynolds (R-Neb) said Mitchell's attack threatened "to destroy the integrity" of the office of President in eyes of the world. Without naming Mitchell, Reynolds said:

"To create the impression that the chief executive of this nation would stoop to sharp practices is to present a sorry picture of the Amedican political system at work . . .

Days of Unrest

"In these serious days of unrest and indecision on the part of millions of people of the world there can be no justification for a purely political attack upon the integrity of the President of the United States."

The President defended Jones' integrity and said his action in this case, as in all non-security ccntractual relationships involving the United States, was open to the public.

A check showed no reporter could get closer to the documents Wednesday than the public information office of each agency. Spokesmen there said key officials were "too busy" assembling the material to talk to anyone about it.

One estimate was that the completed public file might be five inches thick and probably will include such material as memoranda to the President not ordinarily made public. It was considered possible also that some restricted documents might be de-classified in order to make them public.

Youths Confess To 'Thrill Slayings'

Crime Experts Baffled At 'Senseless' Murder And Mayhem By 4 Teenagers

NEW YORK (AP)—Crime experts threw up their hands, horrified and completely baffled at a senseless rampage of murder and mayhem by four teenaged boys from decent Brooklyn homes.

They apparently killed and maimed just for the thrill of it.

Is society at fault, as one lawyer suggested? Was it lack of supervision at home, as one father confessed?

Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver admitted in court Wednesday that he doesn't know the answer. He said:

Good Homes

"There's no greed, no revenge and no sex behind these crimes. What makes this case even more baffling is the fact that these youngsters, to the best of our knowledge, came from good middle class homes.

"What makes these boys go berserk and commit two homicides is something we're going to look into."

In the space of 12 days, the boys reversed a life pattern of decency to embark on a frenzy of brutality. They allegedly beat and kicked one man to death, tortured another and threw him to his death in the East River, whipped young girls, and viciously beat almost anyone who crossed their path.

They roamed Brooklyn parks in search of prey. Their arrest came after a passerby saw a man beaten.

'Good Boy'

Their parents, aghast at the ugly story unfolded by police, could only sob in bewilderment, one after the other:

"But my boy is a good boy."

Three of the boys—Melvin Mittman, 17, Jerome Lieberman 17, and Robert Thrachtenberg, 15—were held without bail on homicide charges. The fourth, Jack Koslow, 18, was held without bail on assault charges.

Silver said the three boys fatally beat a destitute alcoholic Aug. 6 for no apparent reason.

Koslow was accused of taking part in other, nonfatal assaults. All four boys allegedly fell upon a derelict Negro asleep on a park bench Monday, burned his feet with cigarettes, beat him unconscious and tossed him into the river.

Boys' Word

Since his body has not been found, the police have only the boy's word for this homicide and no murder charge has been placed in connection with it.

After their arrest, Silver said:

"They committed crimes for pleasure and hatred and got a kick out of seeing blood flow. I can't understand what would make boys do such terrible things."

Silver quoted Koslow as telling him of Monday night's torture and murder of the Negro:

"Last night was a supreme adventure for me."

No Emotion

It was the second gang of Brooklyn youths accused within six weeks of senseless homicide. Another group beat and stomped to death Thomas A. Condon, 40 last July 1.

In Felony Court Wednesday, Mittman, Lieberman and Trachtenberg, stood with no show of emotion, their eyes straight ahead, their bodies motionless, their tongues silent.

Edward Lentol, Lieberman's attorney, told the court:

"This is society's fault. Society should take the blame . . . Is it possible to lower the draft age to 16 and let them blow off steam in the Army?"

"I must say that's a very pretty speech," interrupted Silver. "We have a very serious situation of adolescents roaming the city streets hell bent for doing exactly as they please."

Transient Injured When Hit With Bottle

A 35-year-old transient, was hospitalized Wednesday night with injuries reportedly received when he was struck on the head by a whiskey bottle during an argument. A witness said the incident occured in a local hotel room. Police booked a 39-year-old Lincoln man on an open charge in connection with the incident. Hospital officials said he received a possible broken jaw and cuts.

Wet Road Causes Accident

Car Left Highway, Then Careened Into Other

Lincoln Star Special

HOLBROOK, Neb.—Three persons were killed and two others injured Wednesday in a two-car collision on Highway 6-34 1½ miles east of here in Furnas County.

The dead were:

I. M. Smiley, 76, Rt. 1, Danbury.

Smiley's wife, Gertrude, 63.

Roy D. Erickson, 44, of Los Angeles.

Erickson's brother, David, 38, and his son, David Jr., 13, are in fair condition at a Cambridge hospital, Dr. Clarence Minnick said.

The elder Erickson suffered a fractured arm and chest injuries. His son has fractured ribs, chest injuries and head cuts.

The Californians, who were traveling west, had been visiting a brother, John Erickson, at Hebron.

The car driven by Roy Erickson had gone off the edge of the highway, which was wet, State Safety Patrolman John Nelson said.

It skidded back sideways onto the road, Nelson said, and into the path of the oncoming Smiley car.

The front of the Smiley car collided with the left front door of the Erickson car, Nelson said.

The three deaths brought the 1954 traffic fatality count in Nebraska to 189. It was 170 a year ago.

Conferees OK $2 Billion For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Senate House conference committee agreed Wednesday night on a bill appropriating two billion, 781 million dollars for the foreign aid program.

Agreement also was reached to allow the administration to retain all but 120 million dollars of 10 billion dollars in unspent funds appropriated in previous years.

Total of new funds provided was 667 million dollars below the original administration requests for the current fiscal year, and slightly below the amount previously voted by the Senate and House.

The Senate initially approved two billion, 790 million dollars and the House two billion, 895 millions.

New funds appropriated for direct military aid and defense total two billion, 418 million dollars, compared with two billion, 564 million voted by the House and two billion, 437 million proposed by the Senate.

Freedom Is Near For De Castries

Dien Bien Phu Hero Is On Exchange List

LONDON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, heroic French commander captured by the Communist-led Vietminh in the fall of the Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu, will be among 280 French officers to be freed in an exchange of prisoners, Peiping Radio announced Wednesday.

De Castries

The Communist broadcast gave no exact date, but dispatches from Hanoi said the exchange between the French and Vietminh was scheduled to begin Wednesday at Viet Tri on the Red River, 30 miles northwest of Hanoi, and at Sam Son on the coast 80 miles south of Haiphong.

Wife Overjoyed

In Paris, De Castries' overjoyed wife, Jacqueline, said she had been informed earlier by French officials that should the Reds release her husband he likely would be among the last to be exchanged.

"I would like to cry, to sing, to scream all together," she said when told of the Peiping broadcast heard in London.

French sources in Hanoi have estimated about 15,000 will be involved on both sides. The Peiping broadcast said 4,910 prisoners—4,590 Europeans and Africans and 320 Vietnamese—will be handed over to the French at Viet Tri.

Held Out 57 Days

De Castries, 52, was taken prisoner when Dien Bien Phu fell on May 7 after holding out for 57 days against numerically superior Communist-led forces. During the siege De Castries was promoted from colonel to brigadier general, an unprecedented thing in recent French military history. French governments previously held no promotion should be made while a battle was going on.

Taken prisoner with De Castries were about 7,000 officers and men, including foreign legionnaires, North Africans and Vietnamese.

Axtell Farm Wife Seeks Legislature Seat:

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
Star Staff Writer

"My only campaign promise was not to introduce a thousand bills in the Legislature," says the only woman candidate nominated in the Nebraska primary for the Unicameral.

Mrs. Frank Foote, 27, Axtell, is running against Norris V. Swan of Hastings for the 31st District seat.

What the Legislature needs, the Kearney County farm wife says, is "someone who will read through all the bills, rather than introduce more of them."

Biggest problem for the Legislature next year, Mrs. Foote said, will be "taxes, schools and roads—that's for sure."

So she is campaigning on a promise "to do the best job of looking through the bills" introduced on those subjects.

Mrs. Foote refused all contributions for the primary campaign, she said, so that she would not be obliged to any special interests.

But, she said, some persons who offered contributions said they will send them to her anonymously so that she can't return it.

Friends first urged her husband to run for the Legislature, Mrs. Foote said, but "he knew he couldn't consider it seriously because he couldn't take that much time out from farming for a job with such a low salary."

MRS. FRANK FOOTE

So Mrs. Foote, a graduate of Leland Stanford University where she majored in political science and economics, decided to file for the office.

"After Mrs. Bowring was appointed to the Senate," Mrs. Foote said, "it seemed perhaps women should take an interest in our Nebraska Legislature."

The man who had filed in the 31st district "was the only unopposed candidate who was not an incumbent, and it did not seem right for this important position to go unopposed," Mrs. Foote said.

So, she said, "this seemed to us to be the year for my interest in government to become more active."

Mrs. Foote's campaign plans for this fall include more contact with women's groups, extension groups and the Farm Bureau.

She is legislative chairman for the Minden Woman's Club and a member of the local Farm Bureau unit and of the Presbyterian Church.

The Footes raise corn and alfalfa and have some livestock on an irrigated quarter section in Kearney County where they have lived the past three and a half years.

Mrs. Foote, the former Kathleen Ackerson, was born in Lincoln and lived here until 1942

She attended Lincoln High School and was graduated from high school at Milan, Mich., where the family lived for a year while her father was on active duty with the Army.

After attending Stanford University three years, she was a researcher for the Curtis Publishing Company in Philadelphia for a year.

Returning to Stanford, she finished work on her B.A. degree and then worked for the University Press and Extension Division in Lincoln for six months.

Her husband, who attended college in California before serving with the Navy, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

If she is elected to the Legislature Mrs. Foote plans to live with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clifton Ackerson, 3707 Holdrege, while it is in session.

The Footes have two daughters Kathy, 5, who will enter kindergarten this fall, and Karen Jo, 2, who would attend nursery school here if Mrs. Foote comes to Lincoln.

4 U.S. Divisions Will Leave Korea

Assembly At Seoul Protests

SEOUL (Thursday) (INS)—South Korean Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun angrily protested today that the United States plan to withdraw four divisions from Korea "is a recommendation to us to commit suicide."

All business establishments throughout South Korea closed for the day after the Pentagon announcement reached Korea.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Wednesday it will shift four divisions from Korea to other areas "where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States."

Advance reports that three U.S. divisions would be pulled out had already caused deep concern in Korea, where the republic's National Assembly unanimously voted to oppose it.

The withdrawal of four divisions would leave two American divisions, a British Commonwealth division and smaller units from other Allied nations in South Korea, together with 20 Republic of Korea divisions.

The official Pentagon announcement, which followed by only a few hours an official statement that "The Army has no knowledge of any early withdrawal," said:

"The Defense Department announced today the plan to withdraw four U.S. divisions from Korea within the next several months. These divisions will be deployed to other areas where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States.

Announcement Later

"The designation of the divisions to be withdrawn will be announced by the U.S. Army later.

"This withdrawal is in further implementation of the policy announced by President Eisenhower on Dec. 26, 1953."

That Eisenhower announcement said U.S. ground forces in Korea would be reduced "as circumstances warrant."

The official South Korean attitude, expressed by the National Assembly, was that the circumstances do not warrant any withdrawal now, in view of the continuing menace of Communist forces in North Korea.

U.S. divisions now in Korea are the 1st Marines and the 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 24th and 25th Army divisions.

Informed Washington sources said two Army divisions and one regimental combat team will be brought back to the United States, along with another combat team now stationed in Japan. They said two of the divisions taken out of Korea probably would remain in the Pacific, one of them on Okinawa and one in Hawaii.

In supplying these reports, the sources did not designate which divisions might stay or which might go elsewhere.

Closer To Formosa

Shifting of one division from Korea to Okinawa would bring its strength closer to the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, toward which the Chinese Communists have been talking with new belligerence of late.

The ROK National Assembly, in expressing deep concern over the withdrawal, said that if the United States persists and does not provide a new buildup of South Korea, this would "leave the United States solely responsible for whatever may happen in the Korean phase of the Communist drive toward Asian and world power."

A Korean Embassy spokesman here expressed shock at the Pentagon announcement.

"We are shocked because the whole thing is still under discussion," said Minister Philip Pyo Wook Han.

"I don't know how it is going to help America: I know it is not going to help Korea."

New Pipeline Installed For Fairbury Water

U.S. To Fly Aid To India Flood Victims

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Seven U. S. Air Force Flying Boxcars are scheduled to leave Geneva, Switzerland, Friday with 47,900 pounds of international Red Cross food, clothing and medicine for flood victims in India.

Air Force European headquarters here said the planes, based in Germany and France, would make stops on the 6,000-mile flight at Rome, Athens, Cyprus, Dhahran in Saudi Arabia and Karachi en route to New Delhi.

Last week six U. S. Boxcars delivered more than 45,000 pounds of Red Cross supplies to flood-ravaged Pakistan.

Four C119s left Calcutta Wednesday for their bases in Germany after a six-hour wait for Indian clearance certificates. The Calcutta delay was the third incident this week involving U. S. mercy flights over India.

OMAHA (AP)—The Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the CIO Communications Workers of America will hold another contract talk Thursday morning.

The company operates in Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas and has 17,000 employees. Union employees have voted to strike if agreement on a new contract is not reached. A trike would not be called until the International executive board of the union gave approval.

Nationalists Claim Crash Survivors Held In Peiping

TAIPEH, Formosa (INS) — A Chinese Nationalist news agency reported that "several" of the missing passengers aboard the British airliner shot down by Red Chinese planes July 23 were rescued by the Communists and are in Peiping.

The agency, the "China Union Press," said the survivors were picked up by Chinese Communist junks which returned to the Chinese mainland as Allied rescue planes approached the scene.

The agency said the survivors were taken first to Canton and later were removed to Peiping.

Only eight, including three Americans, of the 18 persons aboard the British Cathay Pacific airliner were rescued by Allied search planes. Three of the missing also are Americans.

Red China admitted blame for the shooting but claimed that its fighters had mistaken the airliner for a Nationalist plane. The Peiping regime said it would consider payment of compensation.

U. S. protests to the Peiping regime against the incident, which led to the downing of two Red planes by U. S. aircraft on a mercy mission, were rejected by the Communists.

Mobster Is Found Slain In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe, notorious Capone gangster, was found shot to death Wednesday night in an auto on the city's near North Side.

Gioe, one of seven men convicted in 1943 of conspiring to extort more than one million dollars from the motion picture industry, was shot through the head.

Homicide detectives said two bullet punctures were found in the car, indicating Gioe was ambushed while he was driving.

Gioe himself had been questioned in several gangland murders in the 1930s.

Movie Shakedown

Gioe, 52, was paroled in 1947 with three other Capone hoodlums after serving one-third of a 10-year sentence for the million-dollar movie industry shakedown.

In 1943 a federal court in New York convicted Gioe along with Louis (Little New York) Campagna, Philip d'Andrea, Francis Maritote, Paul de Lucia, all of Chicago, and John Roselli of Los Angeles and Chicago and Louis Kaufman, business agent of the Newark, N. J., local of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti also was indicted in the shakedown. He committed suicide when he learned of the indictment.

The paroles of Gioe, Campagna, Ricca and d'Andrea resulted in a federal investigation but the Federal District Court in Chicago refused to interfere with the ruling of the Parole Board.

Demo Leaders Rap President's 'Great Crusade'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Democratic leaders headed by Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday rapped President Eisenhower's 'great crusade" and his support of the Illinois Republican candidate for the Senate.

National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, one of the Democratic Day speakers at the Illinois Fair, renewed his demand for "the facts" about a government power contract he criticized Monday.

Stevenson, jibing at the "crusade" launched by the Republicans in 1952, said "Some mists are rising, and some myths are exploding."

"The Republicans are reaping, as they were bound to, the bitter harvest of disunion in their party and too many promises to the people," declared the 1952 presidential candidate.

'Broken Down'

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), bidding for re-election, went farther, declaring the crusade has "broken down" under the weight of GOP "irresponsibility and incapacity," and factionalism.

The Democratic orators, including former Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas, spoke before a crowd estimated by state police at 8,000.

Eisenhower will speak from the same platform Thursday as the fair's Republican Day headliner.

The former Illinois governor, looking drawn after his illness last spring and his voice a bit hoarse, spoke with strong disapproval of Douglas' Republican opponent, Joseph T. Meek.

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming Republican voters chose the state's lone congressman, William Henry Harrison, to oppose a Democratic veteran of Washington politics, former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, in the Nov. 2 election for the U. S. Senate.

Harrison, 58, descendant of two Presidents, polled more votes than those for his three rivals combined for the GOP nomination in Tuesday's primary.

A-Workers Vote

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — AFL atomic production workers Wednesday followed their leaders' recommendation and voted about 2-1 to accept a 6-cent hourly wage offer they had turned down earlier.

Conferees Stuck

WASHINGTON (AP)—The issue of social security coverage of farmers and professional groups Wednesday kept House-Senate conferees deadlocked.

Youth Pleads Innocent In Hartley Case

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Jack Duffrin, 20, pleaded innocent in court court Wednesday to a charge involving an alleged attempt to obtain money from the family of missing baby-sitter Evelyn Hartley on the pretext of furnishing information about her whereabouts.

Duffrin told Judge Roy V. Ahlstrom he "did not write any letters and made no phone calls" to the home of Dr. Richard Hartley, the college professor whose 16-year-old daughter disappeared in October, 1953, and has never been found.

On Duffrin's plea of innocent to a charge of attempting to commit a felony by obtaining money under false pretenses, Judge Ahlstrom set bond at $2,500 pending a preliminary hearing Aug. 23. A 13-year-old boy arrested with Duffrin has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police Chief George C. Long said officers took Duffrin and the youth into custody near a drug store where Evelyn's mother had taken $500 in response to a letter telling her the money would be exchanged for information which would supposedly have revealed where he daughter was staying.

4 U.S. Divisions Will Leave Korea

Assembly At Seoul Protests

SEOUL (Thursday) (INS)—South Korean Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun angrily protested today that the United States plan to withdraw four divisions from Korea "is a recommendation to us to commit suicide."

All business establishments throughout South Korea closed for the day after the Pentagon announcement reached Korea.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Wednesday it will shift four divisions from Korea to other areas "where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States."

Advance reports that three U.S. divisions would be pulled out had already caused deep concern in Korea, where the republic's National Assembly unanimously voted to oppose it.

The withdrawal of four diviions would leave two American divisions, a British Commonwealth division and smaller units from other Allied nations in South Korea, together with 20 Republic of Korea divisions.

The official Pentagon announcement, which followed by only a few hours an official statement that "The Army has no knowledge of any early withdrawal," said:

"The Defense Department announced today the plan to withdraw four U.S. divisions from Korea within the next several months. These divisions will be deployed to other areas where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States.

Announcement Later

"The designation of the divisions to be withdrawn will be announced by the U.S. Army later.

"This withdrawal is in further implementation of the policy announced by President Eisenhower on Dec. 26, 1953."

That Eisenhower announcement said U.S. ground forces in Korea would be reduced "as circumstances warrant."

The official South Korean attitude, expressed by the National Assembly, was that the circumstances do not warrant any withdrawal now, in view of the continuing menace of Communist forces in North Korea.

U.S. divisions now in Korea are the 1st Marines and the 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 24th and 25th Army divisions.

Informed Washington sources said two Army divisions and one regimental combat team will be brought back to the United States, along with another combat team now stationed in Japan. They said two of the divisions taken out of Korea probably would remain in the Pacific, one of them on Okinawa and one in Hawaii.

In supplying these reports, the sources did not designate which divisions might stay or which might go elsewhere.

Closer To Formosa

Shifting of one division from Korea to Okinawa would bring its strength closer to the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, toward which the Chinese Communists have been talking with new belligerence of late.

The ROK National Assembly, in expressing deep concern over the withdrawal, said that if the United States persists and does not provide a new buildup of South Korea, this would "leave the United States solely responsible for whatever may happen in the Korean phase of the Communist drive toward Asian and world power."

A Korean Embassy spokesman here expressed shock at the Pentagon announcement.

"We are shocked because the whole thing is still under discussion," said Minister Philip Pyo Wook Han.

"I don't know how it is going to help America; I know it is not going to help Korea."

New Pipeline Installed For Fairbury Water

U.S. To Fly Aid To India Flood Victims

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Seven U. S. Air Force Flying Boxcars are scheduled to leave Geneva, Switzerland, Friday with 47,900 pounds of international Red Cross food, clothing and medicine for flood victims in India.

Air Force European headquarters here said the planes, based in Germany and France, would make stops on the 6,000-mile flight at Rome, Athens, Cyprus, Dhahran in Saudi Arabia and Karachi en route to New Delhi.

Last week six U. S. Boxcars delivered more than 45,000 pounds of Red Cross supplies to flood-ravaged Pakistan.

Nationalists Claim Crash Survivors Held In Peiping

TAIPEH, Formosa (INS) — A Chinese Nationalist news agency reported that "several" of the missing passengers aboard the British airliner shot down by Red Chinese planes July 23 were rescued by the Communists and are in Peiping.

The agency, the "China Union Press," said the survivors were picked up by Chinese Communist junks which returned to the Chinese mainland as Allied rescue planes approached the scene.

The agency said the survivors were taken first to Canton and later were removed to Peiping.

Only eight, including three Americans, of the 18 persons aboard the British Cathay Pacific airliner were rescued by Allied search planes. Three of the missing also are Americans.

Red China admitted blame for the shooting but claimed that its fighters had mistaken the airliner for a Nationalist plane. The Peiping regime said it would consider payment of compensation.

U. S. protests to the Peiping regime against the incident, which led to the downing of two Red planes by U. S. aircraft on a mercy mission, were rejected by the Communists.

Mobster Is Found Slain In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe, notorious Capone gangster, was found shot to death Wednesday night in an auto on the city's near North Side.

Gioe, one of seven men convicted in 1943 of conspiring to extort more than one million dollars from the motion picture industry, was shot through the head.

Homicide detectives said two bullet punctures were found in the car, indicating Gioe was ambushed while he was driving.

Gioe himself had been questioned in several gangland murders in the 1930s.

J., local of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

Demo Leaders Rap President's 'Great Crusade'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Democratic leaders headed by Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday rapped President Eisenhower's 'great crusade" and his support of the Illinois Republican candidate for the Senate.

National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, one of the Democratic Day speakers at the Illinois Fair, renewed his demand for "the facts" about a government power contract he criticized Monday.

Stevenson, jibing at the "crusade" launched by the Republicans in 1952, said "Some mists are rising, and some myths are exploding."

"The Republicans are reaping, as they were bound to, the bitter harvest of disunion in their party and too many promises to the people," declared the 1952 presidential candidate.

'Broken Down'

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), bidding for re-election, went farther, declaring the crusade has "broken down" under the weight of GOP "irresponsibility and incapacity," and factionalism.

The Democratic orators, including former Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas, spoke before a crowd estimated by state police at 8,000.

Eisenhower will speak from the same platform Thursday as the fair's Republican Day headliner.

The former Illinois governor, looking drawn after his illness last spring and his voice a bit hoarse, spoke with strong disapproval of Douglas' Republican opponent, Joseph T. Meek.

Harrison Chosen

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming Republican voters chose the state's lone congressman, William Henry Harrison, to oppose a Democratic veteran of Washington politics, former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, in the Nov. 2 election for the U. S. Senate.

Harrison, 58, descendant of two Presidents, polled more votes than those for his three rivals combined for the GOP nomination in Tuesday's primary.

France Rejected

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and Britain were reported Wednesday night to have curtly rejected a French proposal for an early Big Four foreign ministers meeting with Russia.

A diplomatic informant said the U. S.-British turndown was phrased in some of the most blistering terms addressed to France by her Western allies in many years.

Pay Raise Ousted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday night turned down a move to tie a 5 per cent pay raise for two million post office and other government workers onto a flood control irrigation bill.

By a 47-30 rollcall vote the lawmakers tabled a proposal by Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) to attach the pay boost bill as an amendment to a measure proposing an irrigation-flood control project for the Santa Maria River in California.

A-Workers Vote

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — AFL atomic production workers Wednesday followed their leaders' recommendation and voted about 2-1 to accept a 6-cent hourly wage offer they had turned down earlier.

The acceptance was expected to do much toward settling a four-month-old dispute which also involved CIO workers here and at Paducah, Ky. The CIO did not vote Wednesday. Each union represents about 4,500 workers.

Conferees Stuck

WASHINGTON (AP)—The issue of social security coverage of farmers and professional groups Wednesday kept House-Senate conferees deadlocked.

House members insisted that coverage should be extended to farmers, lawyers, dentists, architects and other groups on a compulsory basis, as provided in the bill the House passed. The Senate bill excluded such groups from coverage.

Dr. Malik Calls For Spiritual Awakening Against Communism

Envoy Talks To Evanston Church Meet

EVANSTON, Ill. (INS)—Lebanese Ambassador Dr. Charles Malik said Wednesday night that "it is only a matter of time" before Asia, Africa and possibly Europe fall to Communism unless there is a spiritual awakening.

Malik, speaking at the second Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, charged that Western secular leadership has failed intellectually and spiritually and proved its inability to oppose Communism in Asia and Africa.

His address came after council delegates voted to continue the maximum number of presidents at six, with a provision that they not be allowed to succeed themselves. They beat back a move by a small group opposed to both the six-member presidium and the non-succession ruling.

Malik, who also is his country's representative in the United Nations Security Council, said Communism in Asia and Africa "can never be opposed by mere negation." He explained:

Too Great

"The cultural and racial continuity between the Communist world and Asia and Africa, and the cultural and racial discontinuity between Asia and Africa and the Christian world—these two things are too great and too mutually reinforcing for Communism to be swept back by negation."

Malik added that "at the present rate of spiritual impotence, with the protective covering of the hydrogen bomb, it is only a matter of time before the whole of Asia and Africa, and maybe even Europe, will be engulfed by Communism."

He said that the peoples of Asia and Africa demand "the full enjoyment of their natural rights," and that church leaders should rejoice in this because "wherever people can rule themselves, even if imperfectly, they have a right to do so."

The Lebanese ambassador declared it is "ridiculous" to fight Communism by concentrating on the economic and social aspects. He said that Asia and Africa will develop their own social and political forms.

Malid identified the Christian's duty as to "identify himself with the cause of truth, justice . . . leaving the issue to God . . ."

He added:

"Only when people feel they belong to a larger whole, which they can trust and which they can call their own—only then relations of confidence and justice are established between people."

Phipps, 16, of 2001 K, collided with the side of the Martin car, throwing it against a third vehicle driven by Harold D. McGregor, 32, of 1025 J. Martin was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital where he was treated for lacerations and bruises and released. (Star Photo)

Water Ban Is Relaxed— So It Rains

Restriction on the use of water for sprinkling purposes have been relaxed by Mayor Clark Jeary.

Jeary has issued a new order to the effect that all persons, regardless of which side of the street they live on, can water from 5 p.m. to 12 midnight. This does away with the odd and even umbered day routine as previously in effect.

The restrictions are being relaxed, Jeary said, because of the fact that demand for regular sprinkling should have relaxed to the point by now that all needs could be met and because this is the time of year for seeding lawns New seedings, he said, need a little water every day.

The mayor cautioned, however that excessive uses that create unusual demands will bring back controls. If the people co-operate, he said, and are reasonable this will work but if they are not then the plan will fail.

DETROIT (INS)—Mrs. Boyd Braxton gave birth to twin girls on July 31 and now she expects to return to Herman Kiefer Hospital in a few days for another birth—an occurance described as "very unusual" in medical history. Food Chain Cuts Price On Coffee

NEW YORK (AP) — A cut of 10 cents a pounds on all A&P brands of coffee was announced Wednesday by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., the nation's largest food chain with 4,000 stores.

The cut, effective Thursday, reduces the price of Red Circle, 8 O'Clock and Bokar coffees to $1.09 a pound. A uniform price was set for all three brands in June.

It was the first price-cut announcement by a big nationwide coffee distributor. Cuts by smaller firms began Monday. Most of these were 10 cents a pound.

Over the weekend Brazil announced easing of foreign exchange regulations, in effect giving exporters about 25 per cent more in Brazilian cruzeiros for the same number of dollars, thus allowing them to sell coffee cheaper.

For the third straight day since Monday, the price of coffee futures on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange dropped the two-cents-a-pound daily trading limit.

Dr. Malik Calls For Spiritual Awakening Against Communism

Envoy Talks To Evanston Church Meet

EVANSTON, Ill. (INS)—Lebanese Ambassador Dr. Charles Malik said Wednesday night that "it is only a matter of time" before Asia, Africa and possibly Europe fall to Communism unless there is a spiritual awakening.

Malik, speaking at the second Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, charged that Western secular leadership has failed intellectually and spiritually and proved its inability to oppose Communism in Asia and Africa.

His address came after council delegates voted to continue the maximum number of presidents at six, with a provision that they not be allowed to succeed themselves. They beat back a move by a small group opposed to both the six-member presidium and the non-succession ruling.

Malik, who also is his country's representative in the United Nations Security Council, said Communism in Asia and Africa "can never be opposed by mere negation." He explained:

Too Great

"The cultural and racial continuity between the Communist world and Asia and Africa, and the cultural and racial discontinuity between Asia and Africa and the Christian world—these two things are too great and too mutually reinforcing for Communism to be swept back by negation."

Malik added that "at the present rate of spiritual impotence, with the protective covering of the hydrogen bomb, it is only a matter of time before the whole of Asia and Africa, and maybe even Europe, will be engulfed by Communism."

He said that the peoples of Asia and Africa demand "the full enjoyment of their natural rights," and that church leaders should rejoice in this because "wherever people can rule themselves, even if imperfectly, they have a right to do so."

The Lebanese ambassador declared it is "ridiculous" to fight Communism by concentrating on the economic and social aspects. He said that Asia and Africa will develop their own social and political forms.

Malid identified the Christian's duty as to "identify himself with the cause of truth, justice . . . leaving the issue to God . . ."

He added:

"Only when people feel they belong to a larger whole, which they can trust and which they can call their own—only then relations of confidence and justice are established between people."

Water Ban Is Relaxed— So It Rains

Restriction on the use of water for sprinkling purposes have been relaxed by Mayor Clark Jeary.

Jeary has issued a new order to the effect that all persons, regardless of which side of the street they live on, can water from 5 p.m. to 12 midnight. This does away with the odd and even umbered day routine as previously in effect.

The restrictions are being relaxed, Jeary said, because of the fact that demand for regular sprinkling should have relaxed to the point by now that all needs could be met and because this is the time of year for seeding lawns. New seedings, he said, need a little water every day.

The mayor cautioned, however that excessive uses that create unusual demands will bring back controls. If the people co-operate, he said, and are reasonable this will work but if they are not then the plan will fail.

Food Chain Cuts Price On Coffee

NEW YORK (AP) — A cut of 10 cents a pounds on all A&P brands of coffee was announced Wednesday by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., the nation's largest food chain with 4,000 stores.

The cut, effective Thursday, reduces the price of Red Circle, 8 O'Clock and Bokar coffees to $1.09 a pound. A uniform price was set for all three brands in June.

It was the first price-cut announcement by a big nationwide coffee distributor. Cuts by smaller firms began Monday. Most of these were 10 cents a pound.

Over the weekend Brazil announced easing of foreign exchange regulations, in effect giving exporters about 25 per cent more in Brazilian cruzeiros for the same number of dollars, thus allowing them to sell coffee cheaper.

For the third straight day since Monday, the price of coffee futures on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange dropped the two-cents-a-pound daily trading limit.

New Star In The Skies

It is not impossible that the selection of Herbert Hoover Jr. to replace Walter Bedell Smith as undersecretary of state, a post outranked only by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, may have an ultimate significance far greater than that now attached to it.

In the event that President Eisenhower decides he has had enough with one term of office, what could be more logical than to elevate the son of a former President, an ex-President who for years has been recognized as one of the towering patriarchs of the Republican party, as a potential candidate for the presidency? While that at this time in view of the known ambitions of other members of the Eisenhower team seems improbable, yet it is not beyond the realm of possibility, especially if young Mr. Hoover succeeds in untangling certain phases of American foreign policy. It has its precedence in American politics, the most recent in the case of the late Sen. Bob Taft, who never attained his objective but who on three occasions figured in fierce convention fights.

Herbert Hoover Jr., from the days that his distinguished father occupied the White House seemingly has shunned public life. He is reported as having decided less than a year ago that nothing could induce him to give up his chosen field as a mining engineer and to assume the recognized burdens accompanying a key post in American politics. If that was true, then something happened to change his mind—possibly nothing more than his recognition in fine spirit of a call to duty. But he is the undersecretary of state, nominated by President Eisenhower, and unanimously confirmed for the post in a few short hours. He has a rather impressive record in achieving a settlement in the Iranian oil dispute, a settlement most satisfactory not only to Iran but to Great Britain and to the Anglo-Iranian oil company whose properties Iran had expropriated. At the same time, his success was greatly in the interest of the United States in this "hot spot" involving a dangerous struggle for the oil riches of the Near East.

Now at 50, Herbert Hoover Jr. has a solid record of achievement of his own. His selection as undersecretary of state could be the beginning of a new career for a man who has exhibited qualities of outstanding competency.

Little Old Schoolhouse

An architectural old-timer went on the auction block in Elgin last week, with disposition of the Little Gem schoolhouse into private hands to be converted into the basic structure for a home.

"It will slip aside out of the pathway of so-called progress, and we will know it no more," sighed O. L. Armstrong, who was more or less elected to write the "obit" for the small frame building that had seen long and faithful service to the children of the community.

There was some interesting history to be noted in connection with the school. The weather, always so much a part of the Nebraska scene, had dealt somewhat severely with its locale from time to time. A sod house served as the seat of learning first, and pupils or visitors converged to the focal point simply by walking across the open prairie, since no fences then cluttered the landscape anywhere or interfered with a crow's-flight line of travel toward an objective. In the early 'nineties, a frame schoolhouse replaced the sod structure, only to be rudely twisted on its foundation by a cyclone the following spring. It was used, however, for several more years until a fire finally demolished it, and the students finished out the term in a nearby home of one of the patrons.

Then it was that Little Gem came into being, and there it stood sturdily for more than half a century, defying man and the elements alike, holding within its bosom the tykes of one generation after another and the patient country teachers who went so methodically about their business of imparting "book larnin'". They were many and they were stern, these bearers of knowledge, a sternness born of necessity, no doubt. Mr. Armstrong in his recollections could recall "offhand some 44 teachers who wielded the birch in District 105."

There were blizzards to remember, and picnics when spring came again as it always did. And programs, and young love and heartbreak. And the teacher who told the board that the children were doing so well in school, she would teach an extra two weeks without pay—a proposition eagerly and economically accepted while the feminine Mr. Chips "boarded 'round" with the parents of her pupils.

And among those reminiscing, another oldster even came forth with the first piece he ever spoke in the old soddy. It went like this: "Mother, Jimmie's in the pantry, trying to swipe a hunk of cake. If I was you I'd dust his britches, till his soul is filled with ache."

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It was all over but the shouting. All that remained for initiating a new era in American rural life was President Eisenhower's signature on the bill inaugurating the system of flexible price supports demanded of Congress by the administration. In the main, the President and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, got not all that they requested but at least a substantial foot in the door.

★

In his crusade against what Secretary Benson termed "frightening mounting surpluses" of certain farm commodities, it appeared inevitable that American farm income over the next 12 months would diminish. Benson had a double-edged sword in his hands. With the President vigorously supporting him, he had the authority to reduce the support base for certain agricultural items from 90 to 82½ per cent of parity. Even more punishing in the instance of individual farmers—the wheat grower, for example—he had in his hands tightened measures of control over planted acreage which if applied rigorously, as Secretary Benson may be expected to apply it, will put the farmer in a very painful strait jacket. Rural America will not have any real measure of this historic change in American policy until some months have passed. The full effect of the reduced acreage allotment and the decrease in price supports in the case of wheat will not be felt until the summer of 1955, or after the next harvest. All that the wheat grower can do is to wait—and, perhaps, sweat until the full force of the bad news hits him. Surplus is in itself a relative term. The figures of stocks of grain on the farm or in storage to some are huge — appallingly so—to others, only what any prudent nation aware of the hazards of the harvest and convinced that the idea of the ever-normal granary is a common-sense program, should have. Largely if not completely blotted out at this time in current discussion is the fact that the farm program which has been in force for 20 years came into being almost entirely because of common recognition that the farmer was not getting his just share of the national income.

Sum Total Of Legislation

Poultry and dairy products have borne the brunt in recent months of the sagging decline in agricultural prosperity. Only a relatively few states are concerned with wheat in the major sense. Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Texas, Oklahoma, eastern Colorado and Montana make the chief contribution to America's supply of wheat. These states produce 50 per cent and on frequent occasions more than 50 per cent of America's wheat stocks. If wheat growers actually stand to take the worst beating in the new Eisenhower farm program, then the peoples of these states may look ahead with some concern to the changed status of their pocketbooks.

★

The basis of Nebraska economic stability starting in the early 'forties, has been a whopping annual farm income of a billion dollars or more. Through this period there have been occasions when the figures dropped slightly below a billion. More often they have been above a billion. There have been few years since 1940 that Nebraska has not produced a crop in excess of 50 million bushels of wheat, and more often it has ranged from 65 million to more than 80 million bushels annually. As a cash crop at prevailing prices, there was a tenth, and generally more, of the total farm income of rural Nebraska. That is not by any means the full story back of this historic shift in farm policy. The cost of equipment for modern farming represents a truly impressive investment. Mr. Benson talks of shifting from one crop in surplus to other crops not in surplus without apparently giving thought to the fact that the shift itself would involve the scrapping of one set of farm equipment and the purchase of new machinery.

Getting Down To Nebraska

This change in farm policy is being hailed by the President and his secretary of agriculture as the administration's greatest victory since taking office. It is a victory which easily could turn sour. It is a victory which could engulf hundreds of thousands of American farm homes in shadows. They today face the highest costs of production in their history. They today also are on the brink of a period of a substantial decrease in the prices of those commodities which they produce.

Non-Creating Chaos

Liang Chao is a man of real accomplishment. By his own acknowledgment, he is a beggar—a thoroughbred beggar, if you will. He dwelleth in Canton, China, where he worketh not. And not only has Mr. Chao never soiled his pinkies with the stain of common labor—no one has worked in his family for nigh onto 1,400 laborless years. Which, he figures (mentally, not manually) makes him the last of 57 generations of beggars—thoroughbred beggars, that is.

Well, 57 generations would make for a variety of members of the House of Chao. And that many people, none of them working, would mean a lot of Chaos, the way we see it. But chaos or not, we'd still like the formula if it's available.

A Finny Story

The McCook Gazette tongue-in-cheeked its way through the entire news item bannered dramatically: "Pump Breaks, Twenty-One Die." What is listed as "a major disaster that took 21 lives and left only two survivors" turned out to be only the doings in and around a local department store where the small pump supplying the store aquarium with oxygen took a breather—or a non-breather, as it turned out—for several hours and left 21 tiny goldfish dead from lack of the gas.

Intoned the Gazette solemnly: "Names of the victims are being withheld until notification of the next of kin."

Or was that "next of fin?"

Kasson Speech Rises To Haunt Farm Plan

WASHINGTON — The bitter farm debate is now over as far as Congress is concerned, but it promises to ricochet back and forth across the farm belt for many months to come. Upon its outcome may depend who controls the next Congress of the United States.

Already Bill Thatcher's Farmers Union radio program in Minnesota has been booming out the familiar quote of Gen. Eisenhower at the Kasson, Minn., plowing contest appearing to favor 100 per cent parity price supports.

Realizing the potential political dynamite in the Kasson speech, GOP Sen. Aiken of Vermont carefully pointed out on the Senate floor last week that Ike didn't promise 100 per cent of parity.

"Before making that Kasson speech," said Aiken, chief defender of the Eisenhower farm bill, "President Eisenhower was very careful to word it so that it could not be mistaken as a promise to carry on rigid supports."

"Will the gentleman yield?" interrupted Aiken's fellow Republican, Case of South Dakota. "I was wondering if the senator were going to speak with reference to the speech the President made at Brookings, S. D.?"

"I did not intend to quote from that speech," replied Aiken. "It was an extemporaneous speech and was interpreted by those present to mean whatever they said it meant."

Actually Ike's Brookings, S. D., speech, Oct. 4, 1952, was mimeographed and handed out to newsmen on the Eisenhower special train. It said:

"The Republican party is pledged to the sustaining of the 90 per cent parity price support and it is pledged even more than that to helping the farmer obtain his full parity, 100 per cent parity, with the guarantee in the price supports of 90."

After finishing his skirmish with South Dakota's Case, Aiken quoted from Democratic campaign literature in 1952 to show that the Democrats knew all along that Ike didn't mean what he said when he promised to continue high rigid farm supports.

But what Aiken didn't mention was that both Eisenhower and Nixon denounced this same Democratic literature during the '52 campaign. They said the Democrats were wrong in claiming that Ike hadn't meant what he said at Kasson.

"Malicious," was what Nixon called the Democratic handbook.

"I was outraged to hear recently," commented Eisenhower, "that an affiliate of the Democratic National Committee had published deliberate falsehoods. This folder was deliberately designed to frighten farmers into believing that our new administration would pull the rug out from under them."

The debate of some Midwest Republicans, such as Young and Case of the Dakotas and Hope of Kansas, indicates that they believe this was exactly what the Eisenhower administration did.

ITALIAN TEAMSTERS

Teamster Dave Beck, rotund, dynamic head of the world's biggest union, paid a visit to the Italian equivalent of the teamsters union during a recent visit to Rome.

He found independent labor unions, which were set back under Mussolini, still in relative infancy, with only 25,000 members in the Federazione Italiana Lavoratori Trasporti Ausiliari Del Traffico, which is usually abbreviated to FILTAT and which, translated, means "teamsters."

One reason for the weakness of the non-Communist teamsters is that Moscow is spending $50,000,000 a year to organize Communist unions in Italy in opposition to the middle-of-the-road unions. Another reason is that FILTAT is so destitute that Gaetano Abate, its national secretary, has to hitch-hike around the country when making business trips.

As a sign of friendship and cooperation, therefore, Beck presented Abate with a Fiat car. At the presentation ceremony, Beck made a speech in which he said:

"When you have as many Italians in FILTAT as the 100,000 we boast in the teamsters then you will have a good union."

It later turned out that two of the 100,000 Italians in the AFL teamsters union in the U. S. are brothers of Gaetano Abate and drive trucks in Los Angeles.

MORE INDO HEADACHES

Ambassador Heath has warned the French they must ditch Playboy Emperor Bao Dai to keep southern Indo-China from falling into Communist hands. His warning was based on the fact that the Communists have made tremendous headway in southern Indo-China in recent weeks . . . There's grave danger natives in the south will vote for the Communists—unless a new and vigorous leader is found. Prediction: Bao Dai, who sat out the war on the French Riviera, hopping from one gambling table to another, will be booted out of office . . . Secretary Dulles has volunteered to give a series of hard-hitting foreign policy speeches just before the election. He will be one of the Republican party's big guns and will emphasize the so-called diplomatic victories in Iran, Egypt, and Guatemala, in an effort to make the public forget about the tremendous defeat in Indo-China . . . Shortly before elections the State Department will publish a white paper on Indo-China, aimed at blaming this Communist victory on the French. It will also blast the British for refusing to intervene with air power at a critical moment in the Indo-China battle . . . Thailand has been quietly bracing for a Communist uprising. Premier Pibul Songgram has put the country under virtual martial law and made scores of precautionary arrests. Meanwhile, the United States is rushing emergency arms shipments to Thailand . . . Unfortunately, the United States has indisputable evidence that Thailand officials have been selling U.S. arms to the Communists.

Ike Plagued By Series Of 'General' Troubles

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is suffering from a White House complaint that often occurs when war produces a surplus of important military figures. He is having "general" trouble, meaning military generals. It might be admirals, too, as it was with Harry S. Truman, who had both general and admiral trouble. But President Eisenhower is not yet plagued by admirals.

Of course, there is always Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in the background. Adm. Radford favors precisely the same kind of war against Red China as do President Syngman Rhee of South Korea and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China. So far, however, the vigorous admiral has played ball with the White House team.

The President's differences of opinion with Gen. Mark Clark, a classmate to whom he assigned the Italian campaign in World War II, made the front pages—but in a very dignified manner.

Not so well advertised has been the problem of Gen. James Van Fleet, who takes the Rhee-Chiang position very strongly both here and in the Orient. It was considered that Gen. Van Fleet was encouraging President Rhee to expect the impossible, so on his latest assignment to that area he was accompanied by an experienced dampener of large-scale military expenditures, Assistant Defense Secretary Wilfred J. McNeil, comptroller of the department.

Gen. Van Fleet is a fine officer and is extremely well-liked. His famous letter to his wife complaining about what wasn't being done in Korea, which she made public during the 1952 presidential campaign, certainly helped Gen. Eisenhower.

Now, however, the President has cut the country's losses in Korea and he does not care to have the matter reopened. Mr. Rhee's supporters here are afraid that that was about true to him.

Finally, there are murmurs from New York's Waldorf-Astoria towers that Gen. Douglas MacArthur is deemed not to be receiving his due consideration in what goes on. Something should be done about this, the White House has been told.

Gen. Van Fleet probably can be handled and it is unlikely that Gen. MacArthur will do anything publicly that might lend aid and comfort to the Democrats. Gen. Clark, however, is going to be on hand for awhile as head of a Hoover commission task force to look into the operations of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency.

For this reason his testimony before the Jenner Internal Security Committee received considerable attention. In it, he denounced the United Nations as a breeding ground for Red spies, said it should be scrapped in favor of a free-world alliance against Russia and urged the United States to break off relations with Moscow. He also said the foreign service was in need of "honest-to-God, red-blooded Americans" who stood up to foreign pressures.

Any prominent military man with these views is, of course, dearly welcome to Sen. William E. Jenner. The retired four-star general was invited to—and did—range the whole field of diplomatic policy, most of which he was against. He also said he would confer with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy on his CIA study.

The President, with dignity but unusual clarity, made it clear the next day at his press conference how deeply he disagreed with the Clark prescription. Gen. Clark then said he was not for preventive war, either.

As Mr. Truman found out the hard way, a Senate forum is generally available to four-star dissidents, and it is perhaps a needed safety valve. Anyway, it is now clear that the Jenner committee is prepared to carry on the tradition.

Guardian For A Three-Year-Old

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

The expression "Fireman, save my child!" could well be adapted to Cinders, an American "fire dog" breed.

Cinders is a Dalmatian, a common variety to be found around the fire departments—hence the tag "America's fire dog."

The two-year-old canine is not owned by a fireman, but by the George Borgens family of 835 Rose.

Cinders has saved little three-year-old Christine Borgens from street traffic and countless other city dangers.

The little girl once ran out of the house in pajamas and a bib. Cinders was playing with other dogs a couple of lots away. But when the dog saw Christine running toward the street, he dashed away from the other dogs and blocked the girl's way to the street.

GEORGIA, CHRISTINE BORGENS AND CINDERS
. . . the milkman cometh . . .

The dog will follow the little Borgens girl everywhere — even when he is busily gulping down a meal. When the door slams, he trots over to the door to see if Christine has gone outside. If she has, he doesn't finish his meal.

The dog can be exhausted from running and playing, but if Christine leaves the house, the dogged doggy will follow.

The squeak of the milk truck brakes mean something special to Cinders. For the kindly milkman carries dog biscuits with him. The canine will come out of nowhere to greet the milkman and beg a biscuit. But he will not touch a dog biscuit if one is fed to him by anyone else.

* * *

Cinders has peculiar sleeping habits which make it inconvenient for the member of the Borgens' family who elects to cater to him.

The dog will sleep out on the porch until 2 a.m. Then for some unknown reason, he must sleep the rest of the night inside the house. So the family has come to expect a clawing at the door at such a forsaken hour.

Christine has a way with Cinders. When the little girl sticks her fist down the throat of the dog and grabs a piece of bread she has already given him, all without a fuss by Cinders, that is true dog love.

One of Cinder's best friends is Squeaky the Squirrel, who lives in a tree on the Borgens lot. The frisky fur-bearer will hang down low in a crotch of the tree and "chip, chip, chip" at the Dalmatian. The game of "catch-me-if-you-can" is on. The longer Cinders jumps at the squirrel, the more noisily the animal will tease him, for the squirrel seems to know that Cinders can never jump high enough to catch him.

When the white and black spotted Dalmatian quiets down, he likes to talk things over with Mrs. Borgens. The dog will press his nose against the screen door, and make those funny guttural sounds that only dogs themselves can decipher.

But by the sound of the "talk," Mrs. Borgens believes that Cinders is quite contented with his family and animal friends.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

The other night I stayed at the Santa Barbara Biltmore with Mr. Robert de Roos, the purveyor of prose to the wealthy magazines.

An elaborate doorman whipped open the car door. A polished hotel clerk seized my hand.

"Show Mr. Deleplane to suites 18, 26, 34 and 35. One of them should suit you, sir," he said.

And shortly thereafter we were sprawled elegantly amid rich surroundings. All of us. For the Biltmore sprawls across the countryside too. I know, for I helped build it. And the reason it sprawls shall be related herewith.

* * *

The Biltmore is one of the world's more glittering hotels. It lies on a crescent of white Pacific beach. It lies beneath rustling eucalyptus and is brushed with the fragrance of lacy pepper trees. It is surrounded by very, very rich people.

It is Spanish mission architecture. White plastered walls and rich, red tile. The breezes blow from the blue Pacific through patios and corridors. It is extremely decorous and refined.

This was not exactly the way it was planned. And it shows that the best laid plans of architects sometimes languish on the blueprint.

* * *

Some years ago—I am not copping to how many—I was employed by the founders of the Biltmore in an exacting capacity.

My capacity was being a stake artist. A stake driver works on a survey crew. After the brains get through looking into the little instruments, he cries:

"Drive it!"

The stake artist gets out a stake and a little hatchet. He drives the stake into the ground.

I drove stakes for quite a while. I drove them among the mustard and beneath the pepper trees and disturbed a great many grasshoppers.

* * *

It seemed to me we covered quantities of ground. I have said that the Santa Barbara Biltmore sprawls. One day I asked the head man about it.

"Son," he said, "I am going to let you in on a small secret. This pleasure palace soon to arise here is based on man's frailty.

"It is the thought of the financial geniuses that this place is close to Hollywood. And Hollywood is full of sin. They are erecting here a great edifice to this idea—that the sinful of Hollywood will come here for quiet anonymous week ends.

"My boy," he said, "we are building this hotel so that a person can get into any room in the joint—11 different ways without being subjected to the stares of the lobby."

* * *

Now I have no way of knowing whether this was true or not. I certainly believed it then. And I sometimes worried whether I would burn for my participation in this affair.

I never knew because the Biltmore turned out to appeal to a very sedate class of citizen. In fact, I have never seen a Hollywood celebrity around. With or without sin.

Later in the refined evening, I struck up an acquaintance with an elderly lady who showed me pictures of her grandchildren in Chicago.

"I'm here for the summer," she said. "I wonder how they found such a lovely place to build a hotel, don" you?"

"I certainly do, ma'am," I said. I said it sprawling, a little.

New Star In The Skies

It is not impossible that the selection of Herbert Hoover Jr. to replace Walter Bedell Smith as undersecretary of state, a post outranked only by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, may have an ultimate significance far greater than that now attached to it.

In the event that President Eisenhower decides he has had enough with one term of office, what could be more logical than to elevate the son of a former President, an ex-President who for years has been recognized as one of the towering patriarchs of the Republican party, as a potential candidate for the presidency? While that at this time in view of the known ambitions of other members of the Eisenhower team seems improbable, yet it is not beyond the realm of possibility, especially if young Mr. Hoover succeeds in untangling certain phases of American foreign policy. It has its precedence in American politics, the most recent in the case of the late Sen. Bob Taft, who never attained his objective but who on three occasions figured in fierce convention fights.

Herbert Hoover Jr., from the days that his distinguished father occupied the White House seemingly has shunned public life. He is reported as having decided less than a year ago that nothing could induce him to give up his chosen field as a mining engineer and to assume the recognized burdens accompanying a key post in American politics. If that was true, then something happened to change his mind—possibly nothing more than his recognition in fine spirit of a call to duty. But he is the undersecretary of state, nominated by President Eisenhower, and unanimously confirmed for the post in a few short hours. He has a rather impressive record in achieving a settlement in the Iranian oil dispute, a settlement most satisfactory not only to Iran but to Great Britain and to the Anglo-Iranian oil company whose properties Iran had expropriated. At the same time, his success was greatly in the interest of the United States in this "hot spot" involving a dangerous struggle for the oil riches of the Near East.

Now at 50, Herbert Hoover Jr. has a solid record of achievement of his own. His selection as undersecretary of state could be the beginning of a new career for a man who has exhibited qualities of outstanding competency.

Little Old Schoolhouse

An architectural old-timer went on the auction block in Elgin last week, with disposition of the Little Gem schoolhouse into private hands to be converted into the basic structure for a home.

"It will slip aside out of the pathway of so-called progress, and we will know it no more," sighed O. L. Armstrong, who was more or less elected to write the "obit" for the small frame building that had seen long and faithful service to the children of the community.

There was some interesting history to be noted in connection with the school. The weather, always so much a part of the Nebraska scene, had dealt somewhat severely with its locale from time to time. A sod house served as the seat of learning first, and pupils or visitors converged to the focal point simply by walking across the open prairie, since no fences then cluttered the landscape anywhere or interfered with a crow's-flight line of travel toward an objective. In the early 'nineties, a frame schoolhouse replaced the sod structure, only to be rudely twisted on its foundation by a cyclone the following spring. It was used, however, for several more years until a fire finally demolished it, and the students finished out the term in a nearby home of one of the patrons.

Then it was that Little Gem came into being, and there it stood sturdily for more than half a century, defying man and the elements alike, holding within its bosom the tykes of one generation after another and the patient country teachers who went so methodically about their business of imparting "book larnin'". They were many and they were stern, these bearers of knowledge, a sternness born of necessity, no doubt. Mr. Armstrong in his recollections could recall "offhand some 44 teachers who wielded the birch in District 105."

There were blizzards to remember, and picnics when spring came again as it always did. And programs, and young love and heartbreak. And the teacher who told the board that the children were doing so well in school, she would teach an extra two weeks without pay—a proposition eagerly and economically accepted while the feminine Mr. Chips "boarded 'round" with the parents of her pupils.

And among those reminiscing, another oldster even came forth with the first piece he ever spoke in the old soddy. It went like this: "Mother, Jimmie's in the pantry, trying to swipe a hunk of cake. If I was you I'd dust his britches, till his soul is filled with ache."

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It was all over but the shouting. All that remained for initiating a new era in American rural life was President Eisenhower's signature on the bill inaugurating the system of flexible price supports demanded of Congress by the administration. In the main, the President and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, got not all that they requested but at least a substantial foot in the door.

★

In his crusade against what Secretary Benson termed "frightening mounting surpluses" of certain farm commodities, it appeared inevitable that American farm income over the next 12 months would diminish. Benson had a double-edged sword in his hands. With the President vigorously supporting him, he had the authority to reduce the support base for certain agricultural items from 90 to 82½ per cent of parity. Even more punishing in the instance of individual farmers—the wheat grower, for example—he had in his hands tightened measures of control over planted acreage which if applied rigorously, as Secretary Benson may be expected to apply it, will put the farmer in a very painful strait jacket. Rural America will not have any real measure of this historic change in American policy until some months have passed. The full effect of the reduced acreage allotment and the decrease in price supports in the case of wheat will not be felt until the summer of 1955, or after the next harvest. All that the wheat grower can do is to wait—and, perhaps, sweat until the full force of the bad news hits him. Surplus is in itself a relative term. The figures of stocks of grain on the farm or in storage to some are huge — appallingly so—to others, only what any prudent nation aware of the hazards of the harvest and convinced that the idea of the ever-normal granary is a common-sense program, should have. Largely if not completely blotted out at this time in current discussion is the fact that the farm program which has been in force for 20 years came into being almost entirely because of common recognition that the farmer was not getting his just share of the national income.

Poultry and dairy products have borne the brunt in recent months of the sagging decline in agricultural prosperity. Only a relatively few states are concerned with wheat in the major sense. Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Texas, Oklahoma, eastern Colorado and Montana make the chief contribution to America's supply of wheat. These states produce 50 per cent and on frequent occasions more than 50 per cent of America's wheat stocks. If wheat growers actually stand to take the worst beating in the new Eisenhower farm program, then the peoples of these states may look ahead with some concern to the changed status of their pocketbooks.

★

The basis of Nebraska economic stability starting in the early 'forties, has been a whopping annual farm income of a billion dollars or more. Through this period there have been occasions when the figures dropped slightly below a billion. More often they have been above a billion. There have been few years since 1940 that Nebraska has not produced a crop in excess of 50 million bushels of wheat, and more often it has ranged from 65 million to more than 80 million bushels annually. As a cash crop at prevailing prices, there was a tenth, and generally more, of the total farm income of rural Nebraska. That is not by any means the full story back of this historic shift in farm policy. The cost of equipment for modern farming represents a truly impressive investment. Mr. Benson talks of shifting from one crop in surplus to other crops not in surplus without apparently giving thought to the fact that the shift itself would involve the scrapping of one set of farm equipment and the purchase of new machinery.

Getting Down To Nebraska

This change in farm policy is being hailed by the President and his secretary of agriculture as the administration's greatest victory since taking office. It is a victory which easily could turn sour. It is a victory which could engulf hundreds of thousands of American farm homes in shadows. They today face the highest costs of production in their history. They today also are on the brink of a period of a substantial decrease in the prices of those commodities which they produce.

Non-Creating Chaos

Liang Chao is a man of real accomplishment. By his own acknowledgment, he is a beggar—a thoroughbred beggar, if you will. He dwelleth in Canton, China, where he worketh not. And not only has Mr. Chao never soiled his pinkies with the stain of common labor—no one has worked in his family for nigh onto 1,400 laborless years. Which, he figures (mentally, not manually) makes him the last of 57 generations of beggars—thoroughbred beggars, that is.

Well, 57 generations would make for a variety of members of the House of Chao. And that many people, none of them working, would mean a lot of Chaos, the way we see it. But chaos or not, we'd still like the formula if it's available.

A Finny Story

The McCook Gazette tongue-in-cheeked its way through the entire news item bannered dramatically: "Pump Breaks, Twenty-One Die." What is listed as "a major disaster that took 21 lives and left only two survivors" turned out to be only the doings in and around a local department store where the small pump supplying the store acquarium with oxygen took a breather —or a non-breather, as it turned out—for several hours and left 21 tiny goldfish dead from lack of the gas.

Intoned the Gazette solemnly: "Names of the victims are being withheld until notification of the next of kin."

Or was that "next of fin?"

Kasson Speech Rises To Haunt Farm Plan

WASHINGTON — The bitter farm debate is now over as far as Congress is concerned, but it promises to ricochet back and forth across the farm belt for many months to come. Upon its outcome may depend who controls the next Congress of the United States.

Already Bill Thatcher's Farmers Union radio program in Minnesota has been booming out the familiar quote of Gen. Eisenhower at the Kasson, Minn., plowing contest appearing to favor 100 per cent parity price supports.

Realizing the potential political dynamite in the Kasson speech, GOP Sen. Aiken of Vermont carefully pointed out on the Senate floor last week that Ike didn't promise 100 per cent of parity.

"Before making that Kasson speech," said Aiken, chief defender of the Eisenhower farm bill, "President Eisenhower was very careful to word it so that it could not be mistaken as a promise to carry on rigid supports."

"Will the gentleman yield?" interrupted Aiken's fellow Republican, Case of South Dakota. "I was wondering if the senator were going to speak with reference to the speech the President made at Brookings, S. D.?"

"I did not intend to quote from that speech," replied Aiken. "It was an extemporaneous speech and was interpreted by those present to mean whatever they said it meant."

Actually Ike's Brookings, S. D., speech, Oct. 4, 1952, was mimeographed and handed out to newsmen on the Eisenhower special train. It said:

"The Republican party is pledged to the sustaining of the 90 per cent parity price support and it is pledged even more than that to helping the farmer obtain his full parity, 100 per cent parity, with the guarantee in the price supports of 90."

☆ ☆ ☆

After finishing his skirmish with South Dakota's Case, Aiken quoted from Democratic campaign literature in 1952 to show that the Democrats knew all along that Ike didn't mean what he said when he promised to continue high rigid farm supports.

But what Aiken didn't mention was that both Eisenhower and Nixon denounced this same Democratic literature during the '52 campaign. They said the Democrats were wrong in claiming that Ike hadn't meant what he said at Kasson.

"Malicious," was what Nixon called the Democratic handbook.

"I was outraged to hear recently," commented Eisenhower, "that an affiliate of the Democratic National Committee had published deliberate falsehoods. This folder was deliberately designed to frighten farmers into believing that our new administration would pull the rug out from under them."

The debate of some Midwest Republicans, such as Young and Case of the Dakotas and Hope of Kansas, indicates that they believe this was exactly what the Eisenhower administration did.

ITALIAN TEAMSTERS

Teamster Dave Beck, rotund, dynamic head of the world's biggest union, paid a visit to the Italian equivalent of the teamsters union during a recent visit to Rome.

He found independent labor unions, which were set back under Mussolini, still in relative infancy, with only 25,000 members in the Federazione Italiana Lavoratori Trasporti Ausiliari Del Traffico, which is usually abbreviated to FILTAT and which, translated, means "teamsters."

One reason for the weakness of the non-Communist teamsters is that Moscow is spending $50,000,000 a year to organize Communist unions in Italy in opposition to the middle-of-the-road unions. Another reason is that FILTAT is so destitute that Gaetano Abate, its national secretary, has to hitch-hike around the country when making business trips.

As a sign of friendship and cooperation, therefore, Beck presented Abate with a Fiat car. At the presentation ceremony, Beck made a speech in which he said:

"When you have as many Italians in FILTAT as the 100,000 we boast in the teamsters then you will have a good union."

It later turned out that two of the 100,000 Italians in the AFL teamsters union in the U. S. are brothers of Gaetano Abate and drive trucks in Los Angeles.

MORE INDO HEADACHES

Ambassador Heath has warned the French they must ditch Playboy Emperor Bao Dai to keep southern Indo-China from falling into Communist hands. His warning was based on the fact that the Communists have made tremendous headway in southern Indo-China in recent weeks . . . There's grave danger natives in the south will vote for the Communists—unless a new and vigorous leader is found. Prediction: Bao Dai, who sat out the war on the French Riviera, hopping from one gambling table to another, will be booted out of office . . . Secretary Dulles has volunteered to give a series of hard-hitting foreign policy speeches just before the election. He will be one of the Republican party's big guns and will emphasize the so-called diplomatic victories in Iran, Eqype, and Guatemala, in an effort to make the public forget about the tremendous defeat in Indo-China . . . Shortly before elections the State Department will publish a white paper on Indo-China, aimed at blaming this Communist victory on the French. It will also blast the British for refusing to intervene with air power at a critical moment in the Indo-China battle . . . Thailand has been quietly bracing for a Communist uprising. Premier Pibul Songgram has put the country under virtual martial law and made scores of precautionary arrests. Meanwhile, the United States is rushing emergency arms shipments to Thailand . . . Unfortunately, the United States has indisputable evidence that Thailand officials have been selling U.S. arms to the Communists.

Ike Plagued By Series Of 'General' Troubles

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is suffering from a White House complaint that often occurs when war produces a surplus of important military figures. He is having "general" trouble, meaning military generals. It might be admirals, too, as it was with Harry S. Truman, who had both general and admiral trouble. But President Eisenhower is not yet plagued by admirals.

Of course, there is always Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in the background. Adm. Radford favors precisely the same kind of war against Red China as do President Syngman Rhee of South Korea and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China. So far, however, the vigorous admiral has played ball with the White House team.

The President's differences of opinion with Gen. Mark Clark, a classmate to whom he assigned the Italian campaign in World War II, made the front pages—but in a very dignified manner.

☆ ☆ ☆

Not so well advertised has been the problem of Gen. James Van Fleet, who takes the Rhee-Chiang position very strongly both here and in the Orient. It was considered that Gen. Van Fleet was encouraging President Rhee to expect the impossible, so on his latest assignment to that area he was accompanied by an experienced dampener of large-scale military expenditures, Assistant Defense Secretary Wilfred J. McNeil, comptroller of the department.

Gen. Van Fleet is a fine officer and is extremely well-liked. His famous letter to his wife complaining about what wasn't being done in Korea, which she made public during the 1952 presidential campaign, certainly helped Gen. Eisenhower.

Now, however, the President has cut the country's losses in Korea and he does not care to have the matter reopened. Mr. Rhee's speeches here showed that that was made plain to him.

Finally, there are murmurs from New York's Waldorf-Astoria towers that Gen. Douglas MacArthur is deemed not to be receiving his due consideration in what goes on. Something should be done about this, the White House has been told.

Gen. Van Fleet probably can be handled and it is unlikely that Gen. MacArthur will do anything publicly that might lend aid and comfort to the Democrats. Gen. Clark, however, is going to be on hand for awhile as head of a Hoover commission task force to look into the operations of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency.

☆ ☆ ☆

For this reason his testimony before the Jenner Internal Security Committee received considerable attention. In it, he denounced the United Nations as a breeding ground for Red spies, said it should be scrapped in favor of a free-world alliance against Russia and urged the United States to break off relations with Moscow. He also said the foreign service was in need of "honest-to-God, red-blooded Americans" who stood up to foreign pressures.

Any prominent military man with these views is, of course, dearly welcome to Sen. William E. Jenner. The retired four-star general was invited to—and did—range the whole field of diplomatic policy, most of which he was against. He also said he would confer with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy on his CIA study.

The President, with dignity but unusual clarity, made it clear the next day at his press conference how deeply he disagreed with the Clark prescription. Gen. Clark then said he was not for preventive war, either.

As Mr. Truman found out the hard way, a Senate forum is generally available to four-star dissidents, and it is perhaps a needed safety valve. Anyway, it is now clear that the Jenner committee is prepared to carry on the tradition.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Guardian For A Three-Year-Old

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

The expression "Fireman, save my child!" could well be adapted to Cinders, an American "fire dog" breed.

Cinders is a Dalmatian, a common variety to be found around the fire departments—hence the tag "America's fire dog."

The two-year-old canine is not owned by a fireman, but by the George Borgens family of 835 Rose.

Cinders has saved little three-year-old Christine Borgens from street traffic and countless other city dangers.

The little girl once ran out of the house in pajamas and a bib. Cinders was playing with other dogs a couple of lots away. But when the dog saw Christine running toward the street, he dashed away from the other dogs and blocked the girl's way to the street.

☆ ☆ ☆

The dog will follow the little Borgens girl everywhere — even when he is busily gulping down a meal. When the door slams, he trots over to the door to see if Christine has gone outside. If she has, he doesn't finish his meal.

The dog can be exhausted from running and playing, but if Christine leaves the house, the dogged doggy will follow.

The squeak of the milk truck brakes mean something special to Cinders. For the kindly milkman carries dog biscuits with him.

Senate Ignores Ike; OKs Reserve Promotion Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ignoring a request by President Eisenhower to delay action, the Senate Wednesday passed a bill intended to give reserve officers of all the armed services the same promotion opportunities held by regular officers.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) won approval of her proposal after contending that some regular officers in the Pentagon were fighting the bill because "they simply do not want officers with rank in the reserves."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed it a year ago, for consideration of minor Senate amendments.

One amendment delays effective date of the act until next July 1 so the administration may propose any changes or additions before it goes into operation.

Mrs. Smith said Senate action had been delayed most of this session by "Pentagon resistance" to most programs for "civilian soldiers."

Wait For 'New Look'

Pentagon officials asked the Senate to delay action on the bill until the administration presented its over-all "new look for the reserves" proposals.

President Eisenhower in an unusual letter July 27, asked Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) to delay action by the Armed Services Committee on the bill, writing:

"Legislation on reserve promotions now before your committee reaches far into the fundamentals of the reserve program; it should, therefore, be withheld until the entire system can be tightly evaluated as we are now doing."

At present regular career officers of the armed services are periodically considered for promotion, and if they fail to qualify are separated or retired.

The pending bill would apply a similar system to 660,500 reserve officers.

Full Power Service To NU Restored

Full service to the University of Nebraska campuses, State Orthopedic Hospital, and Capitol from the University's power plant at 14th and Avery was restored by Wednesday noon.

A series of electrical explosions caused $2,000 in damages Tuesday night when a circuit breaker failed to trip after the agricultural college line was knocked down by lightning.

Leo E DeMars, engineer with Commonwealth Electric Co., said the breaker's failure caused an overload and "three switches to burn."

Emergency Repairs

Emergency repairs have been effected, De Mars said but the burned switches and wiring will have to be replaced.

Blinding electrical displays until power could be cut off hampered Lincoln firemen in combatting the fire which broke out.

Fireman Don Hudkins was slightly injured when blown off a ladder by one explosion but returned to work almost immediately.

Power Shuttled

Power from the State Penitentiary plant was shuttled to the Orthopedic hospital and Capitol and emergency steam engines furnished power to the Ag College until power plant repairs were made.

The lightning-struck power line went down in the neighborhood of 30th and Leighton about 17 minutes before the plant fire began.

University officials said damage was restricted to the three switches and would "not exceed $2,000."

2nd British Party Sets China Visit

LONDON (AP) — A second group of Labor party leaders will visit Red China in October at the invitation of the Chinese Foreign Office, a Laborite member of Parliament announced Wednesday night.

Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and seven other Laborites are now touring China—a trip which has been under sharp fire in the United States and in some quarters in Britain as "ill-timed."

Seven members of Parliament and possibly some trade unionists will make up the new party, John Baird, Labor member, told reporters.

'Fact-Finding'

"It will be a fact finding tour in a sympathetic way," Baird said.

He added the group, representing a cross-section of the party, would be interested in industry, trade and an inspection of factories and schools.

"I have been asked to see some of the health services and what we can do to try to help them," he continued. "I think there is a ban, for example, which ought to be stopped, on some medicines."

The group plan to leave Oct. 4, traveling by air to Prague, Moscow and Peiping. They expect to spend a month in China.

TWO WORKERS RESTORED AT FT. MONMOUTH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said Wednesday two additional civilian employes at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., have been restored to duty following security clearance by a review board here.

The action leaves 13 cases still to be disposed of among signal corps workers suspended because of security allegations made against them. Of 22 cases pending on June 11, five have been returned to their jobs and four have been dismissed.

Final action on the remaining cases will be taken as soon as the review board completes its studies and reports to the Army secretary.

Good Crowd At 'Governor's Day' Despite Drizzle

Paper Floats Omitted From Parade

Lincoln Star Special

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. — Although drizzling weather here Wednesday failed to dampen the enthusiasm of spectators, it shortened the "Governor's Day" parade at Centennial Week festivities.

Gov. Robert Crosby, interrupting his Colorado vacation, and a good-sized crowd were on hand to view the grand historical parade which included horses, buggies, covered wagons, small-scale trains, a steam calliope and several bands.

All paper floats were omitted from the Wednesday parade due to the rain and will be added to Friday and Saturday parades, according to Larry Owens, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

The governor was honored guest at a dinner in the Hotel Grand Wednesday evening preceding the "Prairie Panorama" pageant in Hayward Park.

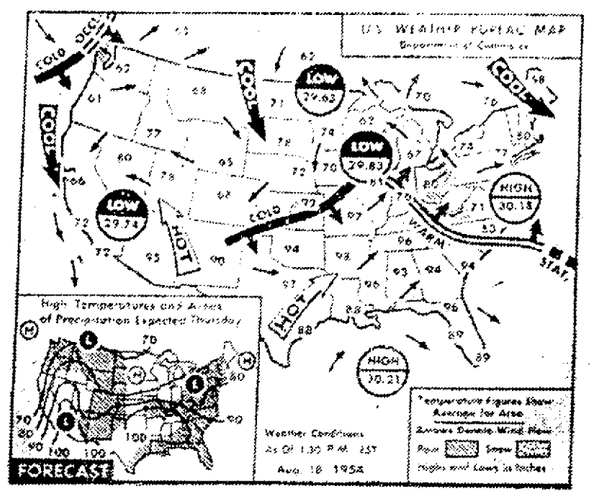
At the dinner he told his hosts that as Nebraska City and the rest of the state celebrate 100 years of statehood, or the birth of their town, there are two things Nebraskans want to think about.

One, he said, is the privilege of living in a state with a wealth of opportunity, individual freedom and a government that extends down to the people. Second, he said, is the need to "never stop working for these things so precious to us."

At the pageant he gave greetings to a crowd estimated at 2,000.

"Youth Day" activities are scheduled for Thursday with Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts presenting exhibits and demonstrations during the afternoon.

At 6 p.m. Thursday a kiddies parade will be staged.



Less Moisture And More Sun

Much of the middle Atlantic states and the upper Ohio valley will be enveloped by showery conditions Thursday. A few scattered showers and thunderstorms also will occur over the Gulf states, the south Atlantic states, the southern and central Rockies, the central Mississippi valley, the higher elevations of the northern Rockies and the Texas Panhandle. Occasional rain is expected in the western sections of the north Pacific states. Warmer weather is in store for the northern tier of states and the middle Atlantic states. The southern states will continue to have hot weather. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Wednesday accepted Senate amendments to a bill authorizing water projects with an estimated Federal cost of more than a billion dollars.

The bill now goes to the White House.

The Senate added projects involving a federal cost of 182 million dollars. Hence the bill, which was passed by the House last month, had to go back to the House for action on the Senate changes.

57 Flood Projects

The bill authorizes, but does not provide actual construction funds for 105 navigation projects, 57 flood control projects and 22 beach erosion projects. The appropriations require separate legislation, probably in the next Congress.

Included in the bill is outhorization of $14?,000,000 for flood control projects in the Missouri River Basin and approval of $73,710,000 for such projects along the Kansas River and its tributaries in Kansas and Nebraska.

In the $75,710,000 authorization for the Kansas River and its projects are provisions for channel improvements in Indian Creek and levee construction along the Indian and the Blue River in Nebraska.

Eve Give Ike Sandhills Hat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower received another gift hat Wednesday — this one being a "sandhiller" — from the Sand Hills of western Nebraska.

The light gray cowboy hat, regarded as conservative because of a narrow brim, was presented to the president by Sen. Eve. Bowring (R-Neb), on behalf of the Sandhill Cattle Assn. of Valentine, Neb.

Interviewed after the presentation, Mrs. Bowring said:

"I didn't want to go away from Washington feeling that the President did not have the proper hat to throw in the ring in 1956."

Good Crowd At 'Governor's Day' Despite Drizzle

Paper Floats Omitted From Parade

Lincoln Star Special

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. — Although drizzling weather here Wednesday failed to dampen the enthusiasm of spectators, it shortened the "Governor's Day" parade at Centennial Week festivities.

Gov. Robert Crosby, interrupting his Colorado vacation, and a good-sized crowd were on hand to view the grand historical parade which included horses, buggies, covered wagons, small-scale trains, a steam calliope and several bands.

All paper floats were omitted from the Wednesday parade due to the rain and will be added to Friday and Saturday parades, according to Larry Owens, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

The governor was honored guest at a dinner in the Hotel Grand Wednesday evening preceding the "Prairie Panorama" pageant in Hayward Park.

At the dinner he told his hosts that as Nebraska City and the rest of the state celebrate 100 years of statehood, or the birth of their town, there are two things Nebraskans want to think about.

One, he said, is the privilege of living in a state with a wealth of opportunity, individual freedom and a government that extends down to the people. Second, he said, is the need to "never stop working for these things so precious to us."

At the pageant he gave greetings to a crowd estimated at 2,000.

"Youth Day" activities are scheduled for Thursday with Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts presenting exhibits and demonstrations during the afternoon.

At 6 p.m. Thursday a kiddies parade will be staged.

Much of the middle Atlantic states and the upper Ohio valley will be enveloped by showery conditions Thursday. A few scattered showers and thunderstorms also will occur over the Gulf states, the south Atlantic states, the southern and central Rockies, the central Mississippi valley, the higher elevations of the northern Rockies and the Texas Panhandle. Occasional rain is expected in the western sections of the north Pacific states. Warmer weather is in store for the northern tier of states and the middle Atlantic states. The southern states will continue to have hot weather. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Two Nebraska Toll Road Survey Meetings Slated

Ress Will Talk With N.Y. Expert

OMAHA (AP)—Plans for a toll road survey in Nebraska will be discussed at two meetings announced Wednesday by Raymond E. McGrath of Omaha, chairman of the Nebraska Turnpike Authority.

McGrath said Robert N. Repp of Coverdale & Colpitts, New York traffic engineering firm, will meet at Lincoln Monday with State Highway Engineer L. N. Ress.

The purpose will be to determine what Highway Department records will be available for the proposed survey.

Sept. 16 Meeting

The State Turnpike Authority will meet Sept. 16 with representatives of an investment banking group, McGrath said. The investment firms include Smith, Barney and Co.; Kirkpatrick-Pettis Co.; Wachob-Bender Co., and other local and national investment firms, firms, along with representatives of Coverdale & Colpitts.

At this session, plans will be made for a preliminary survey to determine whether a turnpike is feasible.

Banking Group Funds

McGrath pointed out that since the turnpike would derive its income from tolls and not from general tax funds, the big question which must be answered by the engineers is whether there would be enough traffic for the road to pay for itself.

He added that because the NTA has been given no funds by the Legislature, the engineering survey would be paid for by the investment banking group.

McGrath said every effort would be made to have final results of the preliminary survey completed by Jan. 1, so that in event of a favorable recommendation by the engineers a definite program could be presented to the next session of the Legislature.

Vandals Damage Oakland Churches

OAKLAND, Neb.—Vandals did considerable damage to the Oakland Lutheran Church and to Salam Covenant Church six miles southwest of Oakland.

Local law authorities have found few clues except a footprint in glue which was strewn in the aisles at Salem Church

Pews were upset and damaged, an American flag torn down, light bulbs broken and furniture overturned.

Two Bibles were burned on the cement floor in the basement and basement screens were torn.

At the Oakland Church chairs were thrown around, paper strewn everywhere and shingles damaged in the belfry.

Youngsters Pack Up To Return Home

Wayne Remedial Speech Clinic Wins Praise Of Young Students

Lincoln Star Special

WAYNE, Neb.—A sample of the college coed's role found favor among two potential candidates, who had a taste of campus routine the past two and a half weeks.

They were Mary Sue Ely, 11, and Sigride Briedis, 16, residents of a dormitory at the Wayne State Teachers College campus while attending the annual Remedial Speech clinic. The last session of the clinic found all the youngsters who had attended busy packing for their return home.

Sigride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dinsberg of Bancroft, although a native of Latvia, has little foreign flavor in her voice. Her colorful past included five years in German displaced persons' camps before her family arrived in this country.

She is going to be a sophomore in high school this fall and has been interested in Girl Scouts and Glee club. She served as a librarian there and has a school letter to her credit for activities in the pep club.

Since attending the clinic, Mary Sue, at 11, has become one of the "older crowd" as she joined in the company of Sigride and several high school students.

"I'm almost as old as Sigride," Mary Sue declared. "Most of the kids are too young. The clinic is wonderful. We hate to leave."

Mary Sue rates the distinction of traveling the longest distance to attend the clinic. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Ely of Ainsworth, where her father practices law. Mrs. Ely, a school teacher at home, joined other teachers and mothers in a course given by Ernest J. Burgi of the Speech and Hearing Laboratory of the University of Nebraska, in an effort to take home a better understanding of speech problems of children.

Twenty-two boys and girls participated in the clinic which was jointly sponsored by the Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, the college and the State Department of Public Instruction.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Forty-seven members of the North Platte Civil Air Patrol cadet squadron will leave Saturday for a week's encampment at Rapid City, S.D.

Church Group Okays 2 Plans

SEWARD, Neb. (AP)—Two resolutions which had provoked considerable debate were passed here Wednesday by delegates to the convention of the Northern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

One resolution calls for the creation of a full-time office of executive secretary of stewardship and parish education.

The other calls for the enlargement of the district's church extension fund to aid the financing of new buildings by self-supporting churches. The fund now provides money only for structures for mission congregations.

Synod officials reported they expected the convention to adjourn Thursday evening, instead of Friday noon as originally planned. They said business was progressing faster than expected.

Dr. Walter F. Lichtsinn, Hammond, Ind., reported that during the last 10 years the synod's 1302 schools had a gain of 40,007 students and 1401 teachers.

Elected to complete the district's board of directors were:

Ernest Grotelueschen, Columbus; Darrel Noyes, Norfolk; H. Werner, Battle Creek, and Teacher William Fozehl of Battle Creek.

Members of other bodies elected are.

Board of parish education — The Rev. Martin Bornemann, Columbus; The Rev. Albert Bostlemann, Norfolk; Teacher H. W. Rickenberg, Norfolk; Teacher George Bluma, Arlington; Victor Stohlman, Omaha, and Herman Eggert, Fremont.

Stewardship committee—The Rev. A. J. Buehner, Meadow Grove; The Rev. Edgar M. Kirshenmann, Omaha, and The Rev. Alfred Ernst, Scottsbluff.

Church extension board—The Rev. W. J. Oetting, Madison; Teacher C. F. Stelling, Bancroft; F. Meeske, West Point, and A. Wolf, Omaha.

DR. JOHN R. SCHENKEN

Schenken Named Head Pathologist

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. John R. Schenken Wednesday was named chairman of the department of pathology at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, replacing Dr. J. P. Tollman. Dr. Tollman, dean of the College of Medicine, had doubled as department head.

University officials said the change will allow Dr. Tollman to devote full time to the duties of dean.

Dr. C. A. McWhorter was named assistant chairman of the department.

Dr. Schenken, also director of laboratories at Methodist Hospital, has been a member of the university faculty since 1945. He is president of both the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the International Congress of Clinical Pathologists.

Falls City-Salem Permanent Road Favored By State

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—The State Highway Department has suggested to Richardson County that it abandon a long-sought road between Falls City and Highway 75 in favor of a permanent new road into Falls City from Salem.

A public meeting here was told that the highway department said that if the county would pass a resolution to that effect, the state would obligate itself for 25 per cent of the cost of a bridge to be replaced over the Nemaha River at Salem.

The bridge was washed out in the June 17 flood. The county and Federal Bureau of Roads have already signed an agreement for construction of a bridge at Salem.

Fierce Labor Riot Explodes In Bavaria; 21 Injured

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Bavaria's worst labor riot since the war exploded in Munich Wednesday. Seriously injured were 21 persons, including 2 women.

Four hundred police with rubber clubs fought an hour against 1,000 striking metal workers at the big Siemens electrical plant.

The Munich rioting was touched off when union pickets in front of the plant attacked hundreds of nonstrikers as they tried to pass through the lines to get to their jobs.

Two waves of 200 police each finally broke the strikers' resistance when they waded into the melee swinging their rubber clubs.

One policeman was knocked out by a rock. The two women were hurled to the ground and trampled. Other women workers were spat on. No arrests were made.

After the fighting stopped, the picket lines, made up mostly of strikers from other Munich plants, thinned out and the nonstrikers were permitted to enter the plant, which employs 2,000.

The outbreak came after labor and management failed in a weekend meeting to reach a wage compromise.

The walkout, affecting 220,000 employes at 600 Bavarian plants, started Aug. 9 when a union demand for 3 cents an hour increase was rejected by management, which countered with an offer of 1½ cents.

Bavarian Labor Minister Richard Oechsle, whose compromise proposal of 2 cents an hour more for the workers was rejected by both sides Monday night, made a fresh appeal to them to reopen negotiations to save the state from further economic damage.

Representatives of the metal industry sent a sharply worded telegram to the Bavarian government tonight charging "union terrorism" provoked today's outbreak.

The industry accused the union of not only failing to maintain order among the strikers but encouraging attacks against workers who wanted to return to their jobs. It urged full police protection for nonstrikers.

Appearances Filed In Value Appeals

Special appearances for the Lancaster County Board of Equalization has been filed in the tax assessment appeal cases of 13 Lincoln auto dealers pending in Lancaster District Court.

The appearances, filed by Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch, "object to the jurisdiction of this court over the subject matters in (these actions)" for the reason the county board "had no jurisdiction over the subject matter."

Auto values in the dealers' business schedules had been adjusted by the county assessor of conform with the schedule of valuations adopted by the State Board of Equalization.

The county board, following an attorney general's opinion, refused to receive evidence in appeals sought by the dealers and said the board had no choice but to follow the state schedule.

Hard-Working Soviet Women 'Starving For A Little Luxury'

PARIS (INS)— A high-fashion New York furrier, just returned from Russia, said Wednesday Soviet women are "starved for a little luxury and for feminine fashion items."

Charles Aronowicz, head of the house of Aronowicz, Inc., described Russian women as ladies who have worked so hard they have "lost the charm that is normal to their sex in other countries."

"And now," he said, "they want their charm back."

Clumsy Styles

Aronowicz went to Leningrad for the annual fur auction sales with permission from the U. S. State Department and a Russian visa. He said Russian styles in wearing apparel are "very clumsy. Coats come with heavy shoulder padding, too-large sleeves and no shape at all."

"Although the Russians have wonderful fur pelts," he added, "they kill them by not knowing how to work them from the technical and style point of view."

Prices are higher than American standards and "sky-high" compared to the average Russian income.

Persian Lamb $3,500

One Silver fox fur pelt costs between $375 and $1,200. A Persian lamb coat, which would sell for about $400 in the U.S., is priced at $3,500 in Russia. A second-hand beaver coat, bearing the look of hard wear, costs $400 to $800.

"And since they don't have skilled technicians," Aronowicz said, "even the most beautiful sable pelts look like rabbit."

The designer said he believes the Russians would buy new clothes and luxury goods from America, and be a good field for U. S. business. He reported that I. I. Gordeev, head of the presidium of the USSR Chamber of Commerce, told him to tell America that "we want to do business."

Wants Show

Gordeev said he would submit to the government any proposal to stage a show of American fashions and furs in Russia.

Aronowicz said he intends to apply for this permission.

"We should do everything to make the picture clear," he said. "We should try to make Russians know us. It would do a lot of good for both sides.

"They cherish and admire all the fashion coming from America," he added.

Omaha One SAC Contest Bomb Target

OMAHA (AP)—Denver, Oklahoma City and Omaha will be the targets next week when the pick of the Air Force's big bomber crews match their skill in the Strategic Air Command sixth annual bombing and navigation competition.

The week-long contest starts Monday. Competing all-jet B-47 medium bombers will launch their attacks from Barksdale Air Force Base at Shreveport, La. The B36 heavies and B50 mediums will fly out of Walker AFB, Roswell, N.M.

Scoring Recorded

The bombers will make simulated radar bomb attacks on Denver and Omaha and a simulated visual bomb attack on Oklahoma City. A radar scoring device records the accuracy of the simulated bomb drops.

Crews will also be scored on a practice bomb drop on a bombing range at Camp Phillips, Kan.

The competition is the second half of SAC's annual crew contest. The first, the reconnaissance and navigation competition, took place earlier this month at Fairfield AFB, Wash.

AROUND THE TOWN

ANOTHER dawn—another dollar—and plenty of news—so the morning is quite to our liking. We also are in favor of variety—and that is another reason why the current Thursday event wins the popularity contest as far as we are concerned—we have some homecomers to chatter about—a party or two—We've added some names to the guest list, and have some interesting data on some of the younger men about town—and their school plans.

* * *

THINK we'll begin the talk about town with news of the guests who, in this instance, are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Pierson and their two sons, Tommy and Johnny—Dr. and Mrs. Pierson and their family arrived earlier this week from Chadron, where Dr. Pierson has been a member of the Chadron College music faculty—and they are en route to Houston, Tex., where Dr. Pierson has accepted a position at the University of Houston He is to be head of the music department, theory division, and also will serve as the concert meister for the University's Symphony Orchestra.

* * *

WE MENTIONED the other morning that Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott (Barbara Wentz) and their two small daughters had come from Louisville, Ky., for a two weeks' visit. Heard just now that Mr. and Mrs. McDermott are going to St. Joseph, Mo., on Friday, to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Fletcher (Ann Miles).

* * *

ARRIVING on Wednesday evening to spend several days in Lincoln were Dr. and Mrs. Ira D. Orr of West Newton, Pa., who were the guests of Dr. Orr's mother, Mrs. A. W. Orr, and his sister, Miss Julia Orr.

* * *

BACK in town after an extended trip through New England and eastern Canada are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Kiess and their daughter, Carolyn. Mr. and Mrs. Kiess and their daughter, who returned the past weekend, were eye-witnesses to the rock slide at Niagara Falls which must have been something on the spectacular side—But the Kiess trio also were in Ottowa and Montreal—They traveled through Vermont and New Hampshire—were in Albany, N.Y., and New York City—and places here and there in between—

WE want to extend our heartiest greetings this morning to eight-weeks-old John Allen Korsmeyer who, a few days ago, became a member of the Korsmeyer family—John's new parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Korsmeyer.

* * *

SPEAKING of the Crib Crowd—Had news this morning from San Diego, Calif., telling of the arrival of a son on Tuesday, Aug. 17, to Lt. Alvin L. Lugn, USN, and Mrs. Lugn. The young man has two sets of grandparents in Lincoln—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alvord, and Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Lugn. Both his parents are former students at the University of Nebraska from where his father, also a graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. received his M. S. degree. Lt. Lugn, by the way, has just completed a tour of active duty in the Asiatic waters as Operations Officer aboard the USS Ajax.

* * *

AND that reminds us of a navy reserve officer—Lt. Charles Thorne—who is due home next Sunday from the Naval Air Station at Grandview, Ill., where he has been taking a navy cruise—on land.

* * *

THE FEEL of fall is in the air and it inspired us to check on one of the dancing clubs—the 100 Club—which, as a rule, makes its season's plans early—We learned that there is to be a meeting of the official staff early in September and that a new president will be named at that time.

* * *

SOMEONE told us that Sept. 8 is to be homecoming day for Mrs. Wallace Webster and her daughter, Lucy, who have been spending several weeks as the guests of Mrs. Webster's parents in Akron, O.

* * *

THOSE school plans we mentioned several paragraphs back, involve Bob Ireland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Ireland; Bob Johnston, son of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnston — and Mickey Munger, son of Dr. and Mrs. Horace V. Munger—We already have told you that young Mickey goes to Lake Forest Academy where he will be a freshman this year — But we haven't told you that Bob Ireland will return to Lake Forest for his senior year—and that Bob Johnston is to be a newcomer at Lake Forest Academy this year—Incidentally, he will be a junior.

IN OUR news travels this morning we found two more prenuptial courtesies for Miss Sandra Gadd, whose marriage to Jack Keene will be solemnized on Sept. 11. On Monday evening Miss Gadd was complimented when Mrs. Doyle Beavers (Joyce Hobbs) and Miss James Ewing were hostesses at a dessert supper and miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Beavers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hobbs. Included among the guests were Mrs. Ben Gadd, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. P. L. Kerns, mother of Miss Gadd's finance.

Miss Elizabeth Jane Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Wright of Portland, Ore., became the bride of Dr. Theodore A. Chuman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Robert E. The bride's gown of white imported lace was designed in the waltz length. Beneath the long-sleeved, snug bodice, the skirt was caught into fullness and worn over tiers of tulle and taffeta underskirts. Her illusion veil was held by a Juliet cap of the lace, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlors of the church. Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Carmel-By-The-Sea, Calif., Dr. and Mrs. Chuman will make their home in Eugene.

A graduate of the University of Oregon, where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority and Mortar Board, of which she served as president, the bride received her Masters Degree from Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

Lincoln Small-Fry Shun Dior

Back to school is no longer a mild threat but a grim reality these days for Lincoln children, and the youngsters of the Lincoln Air Force Base families know it only too well. Pictured in the back row (left to right) are Steve Williford, son of T.Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Williford; Donald Schultz, son of S.Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Schultz; Robbie Mapstead, son of M.Sgt. and Mrs. Art Mapstead; Jock Libby, son of M.Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Libby; Mike McKinney, son of S.Sgt. and Mrs. Dean McKinney, and Jimmie Mapstead. AROUND THE TOWN

ANOTHER dawn—another dollar—and plenty of news—so the morning is quite to our liking. We also are in favor of variety—and that is another reason why the current Thursday ayem wins the popularity contest as far as we are concerned—we have some homecomers to chatter about—a party or two—We've added some names to the guest list, and have some interesting data on some of the younger men about town—and their school plans.

* * *

THINK we'll begin the talk about town with news of the guests who, in this instance, are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Pierson and their two sons, Tommy and Johnny—Dr. and Mrs. Pierson and their family arrived earlier this week from Chadron, where Dr. Pierson has been a member of the Chadron College music faculty—and they are en route to Houston, Tex., where Dr. Pierson has accepted a position at the University of Houston He is to be head of the music department, theory division, and also will serve as the concert meister for the University's Symphony Orchestra.

* * *

WE MENTIONED the other morning that Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott (Barbara Wentz) and their two small daughters had come from Louisville, Ky., for a two weeks' visit. Heard just now that Mr. and Mrs. McDermott are going to St. Joseph, Mo., on Friday to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Fletcher (Ann Miles).

* * *

ARRIVING on Wednesday evening to spend several days in Lincoln were Dr. and Mrs. Ira D. Orr of West Newton, Pa., who were the guests of Dr. Orr's mother, Mrs. A. W. Orr, and his sister, Miss Julia Orr.

* * *

BACK in town after an extended trip through New England and eastern Canada are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Kiess and their daughter, Carolyn. Mr. and Mrs. Kiess and their daughter, who returned the past week-end, were eye-witnesses to the rock slide at Niagara Falls which must have been something on the spectacular side—But the Kiess trio also were in Ottowa and Montreal—They traveled through Vermont and New Hampshire—were in Albany, N.Y., and New York City—and places here and there in between—

WE want to extend our heartiest greetings this morning to eight-weeks-old John Allen Korsmeyer who, a few days ago, became a member of the Korsmeyer family—John's new parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Korsmeyer.

Girl Scout Honored

MISS YVONNE ROHRBAUGH

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Rohrbaugh of Great Bend, Kan., former residents of Lincoln, Miss Yvonne Rohrbaugh recently was honored by being chosen one of two Girl Scouts to represent the organization in Kansas at the annual summer all-state Girl Scout encampment at Cody, Wyo.

Miss Rohrbaugh, who has received the Curved Bar rank, the highest award in Girl Scouting, joined the organization while she attended Clinton School in Lincoln. In 1949, she accompanied her mother and brother, Bryce, to Berlin, Germany, to join her father who was associated with the U.S. State Department. While in Europe, Yvonne was a member of International Girl Scout troop 2, and attended the International School in Geneva, Switzerland, where she learned to speak both German and French.

Mr. and Mrs. Rohrbaugh, both graduates of the University of Nebraska, and their children now reside at Great Bend, Kan., where Yvonne is a senior in high school.

The Star Welcomes

If there are any Bowdoin College alumni in Lincoln, please let us know—and we will tell Capt Robert W. Clark Jr., about it—Capt. and Mrs. Clark, their son, Robert W. Clark III, and their daughter, Kathy Lynnea, have just arrived in town and are busy as the proverbial bees getting settled in their home at 420 Lyncrest Dr. The Clarks, as far as their colleges are concerned, come from the opposite coasts — Bowdoin, as everyone knows, is at Brunswick, Me., and Mrs. Clark's Alma Mater is the University of Washington.

We're mighty happy that Dr. and Mrs. Chester Norman and their three children, Raymond, Jean, and nine-months-old Jimmy, plan to make Lincoln their permanent home. The Normans have just arrived from Loma Linda, Calif., but to Dr. Norman Lincoln and Nebraska are not strange territories—He was reared in Lincoln and his parents, W. L. Norman, who for many years was associated with the State Highway Department, and Mrs. Norman, now reside in Auburn.

Dr. Norman was graduated from the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, and Mrs. Norman is a graduate of the Takoma Hospital School of Nursing, Greeneville, Tenn. Dr. Norman, a general practitioner, and his family are residing at 3518 So. 51st St.

From Omaha have come Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Tomlin—also permanent Lincoln residents—and Mrs. Tomlin's daughter, Ellen Louise Davis, who now are residing at 2411 Q St. Maybe we shouldn't have included the 16-year-old Miss Davis in the permanent plan—The young lady has a momentous decision to make—whether to attend high school in Lincoln, or return to Omaha and continue her studies at Omaha Tech—She has another week to make up her mind, but the odds seem to be in favor of Omaha at the moment.

And from Salina, Kan., a few days ago came an air force career man and his family—T. Sgt. and Mrs. Andholt McCumber and the four small McCumbers — Linda, Mitzi, David and Julie. Perhaps we shouldn't have said that Sgt. McCumber was an air force career man because he hasn't quite made up his mind for sure—but all straws points in the direction of our rather definite statement.

Capt. and Mrs. Harold B. Johnson, and the four Johnson sons, Grant, Wayne, Keith and Lee, have just arrived from San Diego, Calif., and currently are residing at 4014 Worthington. Just for the records—San Diego is not just a place where the Captain was stationed—the whole family is strictly native Californian—and San Diego is the home town.

We think we should tell you that young Keith Johnson already has celebrated a birthday in Lincoln—his fifth—last Tuesday. Lee, incidentally, will be a senior in high school this year.

Girl Scout Honored

MISS YVONNE ROHRBAUGH

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Rohrbaugh of Great Bend, Kan., former residents of Lincoln, Miss Yvonne Rohrbaugh recently was honored by being chosen one of two Girl Scouts to represent the organization in Kansas at the annual summer all-state Girl Scout encampment at Cody, Wyo.

Miss Rohrbaugh, who has received the Curved Bar rank, the highest award in Girl Scouting, joined the organization while she attended Clinton School in Lincoln. In 1949, she accompanied her mother and brother, Bryce, to Berlin, Germany, to join her father who was associated with the U.S. State Department. While in Europe, Yvonne was a member of International Girl Scout troop 2, and attended the International School in Geneva, Switzerland, where she learned to speak both German and French.

Mr. and Mrs. Rohrbaugh, both graduates of the University of Nebraska, and their children now reside at Great Bend, Kan., where Yvonne is a senior in high school.

The Star Welcomes

If there are any Bowdoin College alumni in Lincoln, please let us know—and we will tell Capt. Robert W. Clark Jr., about it—Capt. and Mrs. Clark, their son, Robert W. Clark III, and their daughter, Kathy Lynnea, have just arrived in town and are busy as the proverbial bees getting settled in their home at 420 Lyncrest Dr. The Clarks, as far as their colleges are concerned, come from the opposite coasts — Bowdoin, as everyone knows, is at Brunswick, Me., and Mrs. Clark's Alma Mater is the University of Washington.

We're mighty happy that Dr. and Mrs. Chester Norman and their three children, Raymond, Jean, and nine-months-old Jimmy, plan to make Lincoln their permanent home. The Normans have just arrived from Loma Linda, Calif., but to Dr. Norman Lincoln and Nebraska are not strange territories—He was reared in Lincoln and his parents, W. L. Norman, who for many years was associated with the State Highway Department, and Mrs. Norman, now reside in Auburn.

Dr. Norman was graduated from the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, and Mrs. Norman is a graduate of the Takoma Hospital School of Nursing, Greeneville, Tenn. Dr. Norman, a general practitioner, and his family are residing at 3518 So. 51st St.

From Omaha have come Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Tomlin—also permanent Lincoln residents—and Mrs. Tomlin's daughter, Ellen Louise Davis, who now are residing at 2411 Q St. Maybe we shouldn't have included the 16-year-old Miss Davis in the permanent plan—The young lady has a momentous decision to make—whether to attend high school in Lincoln, or return to Omaha and continue her studies at Omaha Tech—She has another week to make up her mind, but the odds seem to be in favor of Omaha at the moment.

And from Salina, Kan., a few days ago came an air force career man and his family—T. Sgt. and Mrs. Andholt McCumber and the four small McCumbers — Linda, Mitzi, David and Julie. Perhaps we shouldn't have said that Sgt. McCumber was an air force career man because he hasn't quite made up his mind for sure—but all straws points in the direction of our rather definite statement.

Capt. and Mrs. Harold B. Johnson, and the four Johnson sons, Grant, Wayne, Keith and Lee, have just arrived from San Diego, Calif., and currently are residing at 4014 Worthington. Just for the records—San Diego is not just a place where the Captain was stationed—the whole family is strictly native Californian—and San Diego is the home town.

We think we should tell you that young Keith Johnson already has celebrated a birthday in Lincoln—his fifth—last Tuesday. Lee, incidentally, will be a senior in high school this year.

'Dynamite'—Gen. Kenney

Formosa Could Kick-Off Third War

OMAHA (AP)—Gen. George C. Kenney (ret) said Wednesday Formosa could be the kick-off point for World War III and if the Red Chinese attack there they will do it with full confidence of winning despite the presence of the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

"There's a lot of dyamite in that situation," he declared.

President Eisenhower said Tuesday that the Seventh Fleet, patrolling the Formosa Straits, would resist any attempt by the Reds to invade the Chinese Nationalist-held island.

At a press conference held in connection with the opening here Thursday of the 8th annual convention of the Air Force Assn. of which he is president, Kenney indicated the Seventh Fleet alone might not be enough to hold back the Chinese.

"I think you'll find some submarines transferred to the Chinese, he said. He explained the Chinese would get the subs along with non-Chinese crews, the same way fighter planes were transferred to the North Koreans by the Russians.

Meanwhile, he said, the Chinese have built up an air force which is probably the world's fourth strongest. They have between 500 and 1,000 jet bombers he said.

Our fleet hasn't enough carrier-based aircraft to counter that kind of a force of land-based aircraft which would have a relatively short flight between their bases and targets on Formosa said the retired general.

Kenney compared the Communists' conquests to Hitler's in the 1930s and predicted that World War III could start with "another Poland."

World War II started with Hitler's march into Poland.

The new Poland, said Kenney, might be any country around the fringe of the Iron Curtain including Formosa.

GEN. KENNEY . . . Seventh Fleet not enough.

Unsuccessful Campaign For GOP Nomination Cost Martin $17,575

David T. Martin of Kearney reported to the secretary of state Wednesday that he put $17,575 into his unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

He reported he gave $17,500 to the "Martin for senator" committee, which actually spent the money, and paid $75 to a Holdrege television station for advertising.

Martin said he turned $2,000 over to the committee in May, $8,500 in July, and $7,000 in August.

S. E. Torgeson of Kimball, who sought the Republican nomination for the short short-term, reported spending $3,126.65. Chris Beck of Lincoln, in the same race, spent $359.83.

Frank Morrison, McCook, First District Democratic nominee for Congress, reported spending $471.73.

Rep. Roman Hruska, Omaha, nominated by the Republican State Central Committee to fill out the remainder of the term of the late Sen. Butler, reported spending $50 for his filing fee and $266.22 for telegrams to committee members informing them he was available for the nomination.

Court Fight Over Wyoming Water Likely

CHEYENNE (AP)—Wyoming State Engineer L. C. Bishop considers a court battle likely in the dispute over irrigation water stored in three Wyoming Reservoirs. Nebraska wants some of it.

"I think the Interior Department will try to maintain its position that they can sell the water," commented Bishop.

The possibility of a legal battle between the state and the Federal government loomed after attempts to negotiate an agreement whereby the water would be repaid broke down Casper.

Nebraska Rejection

Two major Nebraska irrigation districts refused to accept what I. J. Matthews, district manager of the Bureau of Reclamation, termed a "fair and reasonable" loan offer from the Casper-Alcova project board of directors.

"We've a perfect right to that water," said Bishop, "if our laws mean anything."

He said the Nebraska users at first created the impression they needed the water badly. Now, he said, it appears they "have enough water for six weeks."

Aandahl Mum

Asst. Secretary of the Interior Fred G. Aandahl refused comment on the situation. He said he was awaiting reports from the Casper meeting.

The dispute broke out when the Interior Department ordered up to 150,000 acre-feet of the water sold to users in eastern Wyoming and western Nebraska at $2.25 an acre-foot.

The Casper-Alcove Irrigation District filed suit contending the order was illegal. The district was granted an injunction and the water still stands in the Alcova, Pathfinder and Seminoe reservoirs.

Tenative Agreement

A tentative agreement then was reached at a meeting of representatives from irrigation districts in Wyoming whereby the water would be repaid from future allotments.

That settlement apparently collapsed, however, at Monday's meeting.

Presumably the Interior Department now will attempt to set aside the injunction since Aandahl intimated to Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo) last week the department would seek removal of the injunction to permit sale of the water if the negotiations failed.

Cleveland Budgets Hits To Beat Tigers

INDIANS WIN EIGHTH IN ROW

Early Wynn Shuts Out Detroit; N.Y.'s Rhodes Homers Twice

CLEVELAND (AP)—Scoring all their runs on homers by Bob Avila and Al Smith, the Cleveland Indians defeated Detroit 4-0 Wednesday for their eighth victory in a row. The shutout was the 16th victory for Early Wynn who scattered six Tiger hits.

It was the fourth time burly Early had tried to win No. 16, and until Avila's homer put Cleveland ahead 1-0 in the sixth, the Tribe had failed to score a run behind Wynn in 28 innings of play.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft limited the Indians to five hits, and had allowed only one single until Avila blasted his 13th homer of the season over the left field fence.

Smith's homer into the left field stands followed a walk and Wynn's second single of the game.

The Indians filled the bases again in the eighth on Bill Glynn's bunt, Westlake's pop double and a walk, but Hoeft fanned Jim Hegan and Wynn grounded out to leave all three runners stranded.

The game's start was delayed an hour and a half by rain, but only a few of the 9,442 fans left the close contest early. The crowd pushed the Tribe's home attendance for the season about 4,000 ahead of the total for all of last year.

The Tigers hit Wynn in each of the first four innings and got two walks from him in the fifth, but they were unable to produce a run.

The Pirates got all of their runs in the ninth when they batted starting pitcher Carl Erskine out of the box. Jim Hughes came on to preserve Erskine's 16th victory against 10 defeats.

Maglie Sets Down Phils

NEW YORK (AP) — Dusty Rhodes, subbing for Monte Irvin in left field, walloped two home runs and drove in five runs Wednesday as Sal Maglie scattered 10 Philadelphia hits for an easy 6-2 New York vitcory.

Rhodes' demonstration at the plate made Manager Leo Durocher's hunch pay off for the second straight day

The lefthanded hitting Rhodes got the Giants off winging in the first inning, smashing his 11th homer of the year.

Rhodes' second homer came off reliever Ron Mrozinski with a mate aboard in the fifth. Mrozinski had just replaced Wehmeier after Don Mueller's triple and a single by Willie Mays had produced a fourth run. Mays' hit extended his hitting streak through 19 straight games.

A double by Smokey Burgess and Gran Hamner's single in the sixth gave Philadelphia its first run after the Giants had taken a 6-0 lead. Bobby Morgan hit his 13th homer with two out in the ninth to complete the Phillies' scoring.

Playing Better Than Managing, Says Moore

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Terry Moore seemed a bit wistful as he sat on the Phillies' bench, watching Willie Mays chase fly balls in center field.

"The best job in this game is playing regular every day in the big leagues," said the ex-St. Louis Cardinal star who has been managing the Phils since July 15.

"When I used to play ball, all I had to worry about was catching the ball in center field and getting a hit once in a while," he said. "I could let the manager do the worrying."

How does Moore like managing?

"I really don't know how to answer," he said. "I've been in the game for 22 years and the first 10 days of managing seemed almost that long.

"You never can relax, not unless you're way ahead and all we have been playing are life-and-death games when we win. You should have seen Pittsburgh over the weekend. They played like the old Yankees. Home runs, extra base hits. They couldn't do anything wrong."

When Moore was a player and coach at St. Louis, they said he never would be the manager type because he was "too nice a guy," too easy going. Still, a few days after he became manager he was involved in a ball park brawl that ended in a suspension for Manager Eddie Stanky of St. Louis. Moore, naturally, has no great abiding love for Stanky who cut him loose as a coach after the first year.

"I always liked the way he played ball," he said. "But his big trouble was controlling himself. I remember Leo Durocher said the same thing when he took the job."

Terry is finding it easy to understand why some managers blow their tops at the umpires, although he is no ump-baiter and never will be.

"In Philadelphia Sunday, Danny Schell made a terrific catch against the wall and the umpire refused to allow it. I caught many a ball against the wall, and off it too, but I never saw one disallowed. It so happened the failure to give us the catch cost us a big inning and the ball game."

This was Wednesday and Moore still was talking about the play of Sunday afternoon. In the old days, he would have forgotten the incident overnight.

"And there's always tomorrow's game," he added.

Weigh-In Time Stirs Hassle

Olson, Castellani Camps Differ On Scales Ritual

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An hour's difference in proposed weigh-in times developed into a fair-sized hassle Wednesday for the 15-round title fight here Friday night between world middleweight champion Carl Bobo Olson and contender Rocky Castellani.

Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, is holding out for a 10 a.m. scale balancing ceremony.. Al Naiman, who pilots Castellani, wanted a noon weigh-in but will settle for 11 a.m.

"The state athletic commission will not be dictated to," bellowed Local Commissioner Joe Phillips. He said he would set the Friday weigh-in time today.

Naiman, and his advisor, wily Jack Kearns claim that an early visit to the scales will benefit the champion no end.

Bobo Struggling

"Olson is having a tough time making the weight," Kearns said. "Their plan is to have him dry out Thursday night. After making the 160 pound limit, he will have plenty of time to put on more poundage.

"They're not fooling us. Olson actually is a light heavyweight. Castellani is a legitimate middleweight and will have no trouble with the limit."

From Olson's quarters, Skipper Flaherty retaliated with the following one-two verbal flurry:

"I understand Kearns has agreed to an 11 a.m. weigh-in as a favor to us. That's no favor. We will go by the commission rules which state there shall be a 10 a.m. weigh-in for an afternoon fight. An afternoon is defined as from noon to sunset. The weather bureau says that sunset on Friday will be 7:57 p.m."

Meanwhile Olson was pegged as a 4-1 favorite to successfully defend his title.

The principals completed heavy training Wednesday. Castellani has worked out for more than a month at nearby San Rafael. His routine included close to 160 rounds of boxing. The Cleveland, Ohio, president is reported at peak by his managers.

Olson finished up here today after drilling at Clear Lake, some one hundred miles north of San Francisco. The champion's actual weight has remained a carefully kept secret.

"He'll make it when he gets on the scales," Flaherty says.

Chiefs To Wichita,

After an open date Wednesday night, the Lincoln Chiefs open a series of two doubleheaders at Wichita tonight.

Manager Red McQuillen's crew will return to Sherman Field Saturday night to open a 14-game series. Denver will be the first opponent and the night has been designated as Labor Night, with the local unions distributing a number of prizes to spectators and players.

The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson, SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

Any student of Nebraska high school athletics will readily recall the name of Ivan Wilson, for many years a producer of champions at North Platte High.

Remember that old record-smashing Bulldog relay team of Parks, Reed, Drost and Newton?

That was one of Ivan's productions, along with a number of college football heroes including Charles Toogood, the illustrious Cornhusker tackle.

Ivan, now headquartered in the great northwest, recently saw Charley play with the Los Angeles Rams against the New York Giants in an exhibition game in Portland, won by the Rams, 30-7. The former coaching great wrote Mrs. Ann M. Crowley, 3440 Starr Street, in Lincoln:

Charley Toogood

"Charley Toogood played the whole game either on offense and defense. He played all the quarters on defense and the last three quarters on offense. He is rooming with Bob Carey, the former All-American at Michigan State and my son, John, 15, watched the Rams get their pregame taping.

"Both Charley and Carey talked to John very intelligently about selection of a college.

"Another member of my 1943 North Platte team, Bobby Easter, came down for the game. He is now coach at Roseburg, Ore., High."

Easter, if you will recall, was a starting member of the Oregon backfield when Norm Van Brocklin was doing the quarterbacking several seasons back.

Ivan's son, by the way, is considered an outstanding prospect as an all-around athlete, with special emphasis on baseball. Led by the 15-year-old Wilson, the Albany High baseball team finished in the final six in the Oregon State championships. Aug. 13.

Note to Ivan: Young John might look sharp in Nebraska's Scarlet raiment, just like that Toogood named Charley.

At the risk of being an old killjoy, it must be predicted here that the September meeting between Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles might very likely add up to an evening of dull entertainment.

By dull, we mean Marciano swarming over Ez for a knockout, maybe at an early stage.

Like many blood-thirsty patrons attending auto racing essentially for a possible crash, Marciano makes the fight interesting by presenting the distinct possibility of a knockout at any time. The Rock moves forward relentlessly, fires punches from all angles and depends on the law of averages for the knockout. The law usually bows to Rocky.

Veteran observers, closer to the scene than this agent, figure that Charles exploded his best fight in the first meeting between the prime heavyweights. He was in perfect condition and he hit Rocky with every punch he knew, but was unable to quell the champ's tireless attack.

Considering this, it is hard to figure how Charles can retain the confidence he knew in that earlier classic. These simply couldn't be two such tremendous fights instilled in one human body.

Maybe we're dead wrong. If so, Ezzard would have to be installed among the great comeback guys of all time.

INDIANS WIN EIGHTH IN ROW

Early Wynn Shuts Out Detroit; N.Y.'s Rhodes Homers Twice

CLEVELAND (AP)—Scoring all their runs on homers by Bob Avila and Al Smith, the Cleveland Indians defeated Detroit 4-0 Wednesday for their eighth victory in a row. The shutout was the 16th victory for Early Wynn who scattered six Tiger hits.

It was the fourth time burly Early had tried to win No. 16, and until Avila's homer put Cleveland ahead 1-0 in the sixth, the Tribe had failed to score a run behind Wynn in 28 innings of play.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft limited the Indians to five hits, and had allowed only one single until Avila blasted his 13th homer of the season over the left field fence.

Smith's homer into the left field stands followed a walk and Wynn's second single of the game.

The Indians filled the bases again in the eighth on Bill Glynn's bunt, Westlake's pop double and a walk, but Hoeft fanned Jim Hegan and Wynn grounded out to leave all three runners stranded.

The game's start was delayed an hour and a half by rain, but only a few of the 9,442 fans left the close contest early. The crowd pushed the Tribe's home attendance for the season about 4,000 ahead of the total for all of last year.

The Tigers hit Wynn in each of the first four innings and got two walks from him in the fifth, but they were unable to produce a run.

Dodgers Cool Off Tail-End Bucs, 3-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers snapped the Pittsburgh Pirates' five-game winning streak Wednesday night, edging the battling last place team 3-2. Erskine had a four-hitter going into the ninth when the Pirates came close to pulling the game out.

Maglie Sets Down Phils

NEW YORK (AP) — Dusty Rhodes, subbing for Monte Irvin in left field, walloped two home runs and drove in five runs Wednesday as Sal Maglie scattered 10 Philadelphia hits for an easy 6-2 New York vitcory.

Rhodes' demonstration at the plate made Manager Leo Durocher's hunch pay off for the second straight day

The lefthanded hitting Rhodes got the Giants off winging in the first inning, smashing his 11th homer of the year.

Rhodes' second homer came off reliever Ron Mrozinski with a mate aboard in the fifth. Mrozinski had just replaced Wehmeier after Don Mueller's triple and a single by Willie Mays had produced a fourth run. Mays' hit extended his hitting streak through 19 straight games.

A double by Smokey Burgess and Gran Hamner's single in the sixth gave Philadelphia its first run after the Giants had taken a 6-0 lead. Bobby Morgan hit his 13th homer with two out in the ninth to complete the Phillies' scoring.

Playing Better Than Managing, Says Moore

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Terry Moore seemed a bit wistful as he sat on the Phillies' bench, watching Willie Mays chase fly balls in center field.

"The best job in this game is playing regular every day in the big leagues," said the ex-St. Louis Cardinal star who has been managing the Phils since July 15.

"When I used to play ball, all I had to worry about was catching the ball in center field and getting a hit once in a while," he said. "I could let the manager do the worrying."

How does Moore like managing?

"I really don't know how to answer," he said. "I've been in the game for 22 years and the first 10 days of managing seemed almost that long.

"You never can relax, not unless you're way ahead and all we have been playing are life-and-death games when we win. You should have seen Pittsburgh over the weekend. They played like the old Yankees. Home runs, extra base hits. They couldn't do anything wrong."

When Moore was a player and coach at St. Louis, they said he never would be the manager type because he was "too nice a guy," too easy going. Still, a few days after he became manager he was involved in a ball park brawl that ended in a suspension for Manager Eddie Stanky of St. Louis. Moore, naturally, has no great abiding love for Stanky who cut him loose as a coach after the first year.

"I always liked the way he played ball," he said. "But his big trouble was controlling himself. I remember Leo Durocher said the same thing when he took the job."

Terry is finding it easy to understand why some managers blow their tops at the umpires, although he is no ump-baiter and never will be.

"In Philadelphia Sunday, Danny Schell made a terrific catch against the wall and the umpire refused to allow it. I caught many a ball against the wall, and off it too, but I never saw one disallowed. It so happened the failure to give us the catch cost us a big inning and the ball game."

This was Wednesday and Moore still was talking about the play of Sunday afternoon. In the old days, he would have forgotten the incident overnight.

"And there's always tomorrow's game," he added.

Naiman, and his advisor, wily Jack Kearns claim that an early visit to the scales will benefit the champion no end.

Bobo Struggling

"Olson is having a tough time making the weight," Kearns said. "Their plan is to have him dry out Thursday night. After making the 160 pound limit, he will have plenty of time to put on more poundage.

"They're not fooling us. Olson actually is a light heavyweight. Castellani is a legitimate middleweight and will have no trouble with the limit."

From Olson's quarters, Skipper Flaherty retaliated with the following one-two verbal flurry:

"I understand Kearns has agreed to an 11 a.m. weigh-in as a favor to us. That's no favor. We will go by the commission rules which state there shall be a 10 a.m. weigh-in for an afternoon fight. An afternoon is defined as from noon to sunset. The weather bureau says that sunset on Friday will be 7:57 p.m."

Meanwhile Olson was pegged as a 4-1 favorite to successfully defend his title.

The principals completed heavy training Wednesday. Castellani has worked out for more than a month at nearby San Rafael. His routine included close to 160 rounds of boxing. The Cleveland, Ohio, president is reported at peak by his managers.

Olson finished up here today after drilling at Clear Lake, some one hundred miles north of San Francisco. The champion's actual weight has remained a carefully kept secret.

"He'll make it when he gets on the scales," Flaherty says.

Chiefs To Wichita,

After an open date Wednesday night, the Lincoln Chiefs open a series of two doubleheaders at Wichita tonight.

Manager Red McQuillen's crew will return to Sherman Field Saturday night to open a 14-game series. Denver will be the first opponent and the night has been designated as Labor Night, with the local unions distributing a number of prizes to spectators and players.

The Firing Line

Any student of Nebraska high school athletics will readily recall the name of Ivan Wilson, for many years a producer of champions at North Platte High.

Remember that old record-smashing Bulldog relay team of Parks, Reed, Drost and Newton?

That was one of Ivan's productions, along with a number of college football heroes including Charles Toogood, the illustrious Cornhusker tackle.

Ivan, now headquartered in the great northwest, recently saw Charley play with the Los Angeles Rams against the New York Giants in an exhibition game in Portland, won by the Rams, 30-7. The former coaching great wrote Mrs. Ann M. Crowley, 3440 Starr Street, in Lincoln:

Charley Toogood

"Charley Toogood played the whole game either on offense and defense. He played all the quarters on defense and the last three quarters on offense. He is rooming with Bob Carey, the former All-American at Michigan State and my son, John, 15, watched the Rams get their pregame taping.

"Both Charley and Carey talked to John very intelligently about selection of a college.

"Another member of my 1943 North Platte team, Bobby Easter, came down for the game. He is now coach at Roseburg, Ore., High."

Easter, if you will recall, was a starting member of the Oregon backfield when Norm Van Brocklin was doing the quarterbacking several seasons back.

Ivan's son, by the way, is considered an outstanding prospect as an all-around athlete, with special emphasis on baseball. Led by the 15-year-old Wilson, the Albany High baseball team finished in the final six in the Oregon State championships, Aug. 13.

Note to Ivan: Young John might look sharp in Nebraska's Scarlet raiment, just like that Toogood named Charley.

At the risk of being an old killjoy, it must be predicted here that the September meeting between Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles might very likely add up to an evening of dull entertainment.

By dull, we mean Marciano swarming over Ez for a knockout, maybe at an early stage.

Like many blood-thirsty patrons attending auto racing essentially for a possible crash, Marciano makes the fight interesting by presenting the distinct possibility of a knockout at any time. The Rock moves forward relentlessly, fires punches from all angles and depends on the law of averages for the knockout. The law usually bows to Rocky.

Veteran observers, closer to the scene than this agent, figure that Charles exploded his best fight in the first meeting between the prime heavyweights. He was in perfect condition and he hit Rocky with every punch he knew, but was unable to quell the champ's tireless attack.

Considering this, it is hard to figure how Charles can retain the confidence he knew in that earlier classic. These simply couldn't be two such tremendous fights instilled in one human body.

Maybe we're dead wrong. If so, Ezzard would have to be installed among the great comeback guys of all time.

Whitey Picks Up 13th Victory

Ford Hurls Yankees To 6-1 Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The New York Yankees, working hard to narrow the gap between them and the league-leading Cleveland Indians, defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 Wednesday night. Whitey Ford, getting his 13th victory, struck out nine batters.

The victory, ninth straight for the Yankees, left the world champions three games back of the Indians, who defeated Detroit 4-0.

The Yanks made Alex Kellner a losing pitcher for the 15th time. Five of his setbacks were by the Yankees. The big lefthander has yet to beat New York.

The visitors made the seventh their big inning with Bill Skowron batting Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra home with a triple to left field.

Jerry Coleman scored the first Yankee run in the second inning on a single, a wild pitch and Willie Miranda's sacrifice fly.

In the fifth, Irv Noren and Mantle came home with Berra and Skowron getting the RBI's.

Philadelphia's only run was made by Vic Power in the second with a double, backed up by Bill Wilson's single and Joe DeMaestri's long fly.

Consuegra Wins—The Easy Way

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sandy Consuegra got his 15th victory the easy way Wednesday night by pitching only the first five innings while his Chicago mates expanded a one-run lead into a 4-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Paul Richards yanked Consuegra with a 2-1 lead for a pinch hitter in the top of the sixth. The move failed then, but two innings later the White Sox doubled their score for the benefit of the absentee Consuegra.

Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish, meanwhile, held the Orioles down in relief of Consuegra.

Chicago's first three batters carried the brunt of the attack, Chico Carrasquel getting three singles, Nellie Fox a single and double, and Minnie Minoso two singles and a triple.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Veteran Warren Spahn fired a five-hitter at the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night as the Milwaukee Braves jumped back on the victory wagon with a 3-1 triumph, their 21st in the last 24 games.

The wiry southpaw lost the 33rd shutout of his major league career in the ninth when, riding a two-hitter, he served a home run ball to Stan Musial who parked it in the right field bleachers. It was the 32nd of the year for the Cardinal slugger.

LONDON, Ont., (AP)—Defending champion Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., was eliminated in the fourth round of the Canadian Amateur golf championship Wednesday.

Ex-Boss Sues Kid Gavilan

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing Manager George Gainford has filed suit in Supreme Court for $150,000 against Kid Gavilan claiming that his "advice and counsel" helped make the Cuban become the world westerweight champion. Details of the action became known Wednesday.

Gainford, who once managed former welterweight and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, said he was contracted in 1947 to advise, counsel and create bookings for Kid Gavilan for 10 per cent of the fighter's earnings. Robinson was welterweight champion at the time.

He said he lived up to the terms of the agreement and "through the efforts of plaintiff and by reason of his advice and counsel," Gavilan won the welterweight crown and earned approximately $1,500,000. Gainford said that he never has been paid nor given an accounting.

The suit is also directed against Angel Lopez, who, according to court papers, signed the contract as Gavilan's advisor, and Fernando Balido, who signed as manager.

Gavilan entered a general denial and also denied that Gainford made any bookings for him or performed services.

The boxer also said the agreement cited by Gainford is illegal because it violates the state athletic commission rules which provides that the parties to the agreement must appear before the commission when the contract is filed with it.

Gavilan said that any amount that might have been due Gainford has been paid and further contended that the complaint does not set forth facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Piersall's Arm Only Strained

BOSTON (AP) — Jimmy Piersall, the Boston Red Sox "Gee Whiz" defensive outfielder, apparently suffered nothing worse than a strain in his strong, accurate right arm.

X-ray pictures taken Wednesday disclosed no injury and doctors expressed opinion Piersall's only injury was strain.

Piersall apparently suffered the injury Monday night when he engaged in an accuracy pegging contest with the New York Giants' Willie Mays, a contest that was one feature of a program preceding an exhibition game here at Fenway Park.

The arm hurt Piersall so bad last night in Washington, even after treatment from Trainer Jack Fadden, that he was sent back here for examination.

Piersall plans to rest a couple of days and then try out the arm in practice.

Omaha Takes Baseball Tourney

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Omaha backed Dick Poore's six-hit pitching with a 15-hit barrage Wednesday night to defeat Denver, 10-4, in the title game of the Region 10 Junior American Legion baseball tournament.

The victory, Omaha's third of the tournament and No. 15 of the season, sent the Nebraskans into the district meet at Hastings, Neb., starting Sunday.

Poore held Denver hitless until the sixth inning, when Omaha held an 8-0 lead. The losers scored three runs in that frame, which was highlighted by a scuffle at second base in which players from both teams took to the field.

Jim Blair and Tom Molner combined to account for Omaha's first two runs. Blair singled to open the first, moved to second on an infield out, and came home on Molner's safety. Another Blair single in the third a single by Dwight Siebler, and Molner's fly again scored Blair.

Whitey Picks Up 13th Victory

Ford Hurls Yankees To 6-1 Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The New York Yankees, working hard to narrow the gap between them and the league-leading Cleveland Indians, defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 Wednesday night. Whitey Ford, getting his 13th victory, struck out nine batters.

The victory, ninth straight for the Yankees, left the world champions three games back of the Indians, who defeated Detroit 4-0.

The Yanks made Alex Kellner a losing pitcher for the 15th time.

Five of his setbacks were by the Yankees. The big lefthander has yet to beat New York.

The visitors made the seventh their big inning with Bill Skowron batting Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra home with a triple to left field.

Jerry Coleman scored the first Yankee run in the second inning on a single, a wild pitch and Willie Miranda's sacrifice fly.

In the fifth, Irv Noren and Mantle came home with Berra and Skowron getting the RBI's.

Philadelphia's only run was made by Vic Power in the second with a double, backed up by Bill Wilson's single and Joe DeMaestri's long fly.

Consuegra Wins—The Easy Way

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sandy Consuegra got his 15th victory the easy way Wednesday night by pitching only the first five innings while his Chicago mates expanded a one-run lead into a 4-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Paul Richards yanked Consuegra with a 2-1 lead for a pinch hitter in the top of the sixth. The move failed then, but two innings later the White Sox doubled their score for the benefit of the absentee Consuegra.

Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish, meanwhile, held the Orioles down in relief of Consuegra.

Chicago's first three batters carried the brunt of the attack, Chico Carrasquel getting three singles, Nellie Fox a single and double, and Minnie Minoso two singles and a triple.

Ex-Boss Sues Kid Gavilan

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing Manager George Gainford has filed suit in Supreme Court for $150,000 against Kid Gavilan claiming that his "advice and counsel" helped make the Cuban become the world westerweight champion. Details of the action became known Wednesday.

Gainford, who once managed former welterweight and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, said he was contracted in 1947 to advise, counsel and create bookings for Kid Gavilan for 10 per cent of the fighter's earnings. Robinson was welterweight champion at the time.

He said he lived up to the terms of the agreement and "through the efforts of plaintiff and by reason of his advice and counsel," Gavilan won the welterweight crown and earned approximately $1,500,000. Gainford said that he never has been paid nor given an accounting.

The suit is also directed against Angel Lopez, who, according to court papers, signed the contract as Gavilan's advisor, and Fernando Balido, who signed as manager.

Gavilan entered a general denial and also denied that Gainford made any bookings for him or performed services.

The boxer also said the agreement cited by Gainford is illegal because it violates the state athletic commission rules which provides that the parties to the agreement must appear before the commission when the contract is filed with it.

Gavilan said that any amount that might have been due Gainford has been paid and further contended that the complaint does not set forth facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Piersall's Arm Only Strained

BOSTON (AP) — Jimmy Piersall, the Boston Red Sox "Gee Whiz" defensive outfielder, apparently suffered nothing worse than a strain in his strong, accurate right arm.

X-ray pictures taken Wednesday disclosed no injury and doctors expressed opinion Piersall's only injury was strain.

Piersall apparently suffered the injury Monday night when he engaged in an accuracy pegging contest with the New York Giants' Willie Mays, a contest that was one feature of a program preceding an exhibition game here at Fenway Park.

The arm hurt Piersall so bad last night in Washington, even after treatment from Trainer Jack Fadden, that he was sent back here for examination.

Omaha Takes Baseball Tourney

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Omaha backed Dick Poore's six-hit pitching with a 15-hit barrage Wednesday night to defeat Denver, 10-4, in the title game of the Region 10 Junior American Legion baseball tournament.

The victory, Omaha's third of the tournament and No. 15 of the season, sent the Nebraskans into the district meet at Hastings, Neb., starting Sunday.

Poore held Denver hitless until the sixth inning, when Omaha held an 8-0 lead. The losers scored three runs in that frame, which was highlighted by a scuffle at second base in which players from both teams took to the field.

Jim Blair and Tom Molner combined to account for Omaha's first two runs. Blair singled to open the first, moved to second on an infield out, and came home on Molner's safety. Another Blair single in the third a single by Dwight Siebler, and Molner's fly again scored Blair.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Wichita took the series with Denver here Wednesday night winning a sharp pitching duel, 2-1.

Ho Hum! Guinup Rides 4 More Winners

POEM
Oh, the two-dollar bettors
And the ten-dollar bettors,
How often they've been overheard to say:
"Chalk another win up
For Jockey Charley Guinup;
How many is that for the guy today?"

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Ralph Lilburn, a veteran jockey, had a fair day at the Fairgrounds Wednesday, riding two winners and two place horses.

But his feat was overshadowed by the continued hot riding of Charles Guinup, who rode four winners again. In the past three days, Guinup has been on 13 winners. Wednesday, he rode both ends of the daily double for the second time in three days.

Guinup's winners were Devil's Encore in the first, victor over Pug in a photo finish; Captain Buzz in the second, a three-length winner; Baby Valley in the fifth, one length over Sonny Pass; and Sea Champ, winner by a length in the eighth race at one mile and five-sixteenths.

The feature $1,200 Elks Purse went to Dinamico of the Ray Danner stables. Joe Provencio was aboard the winner, who made a strong drive in the stretch to win the five-furlong dash by a length over Propitious.

Heavy dough Wednesday was returned on Gay Club in the third race. Gay Club took the photo finish from Mor Orphan and paid $30.20.

Thursday's program features the running of the $1,200 Sowers purse.

Doubles Teams Show Top Form

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The top-seeded teams of Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, America's Vic Seixas and Trabert and defending women's titlists Doris Hart and Shirley Fry showed championship form Wednesday in their national doubles tournament victories.

Miss Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Miss Fry, Akron, Ohio, moved effortlessly through the quarter-finals in the women's competition with a 6-2, 6-0 triumph over Sachiko Kamo of Japan and Mrs. Grace Raymonde Jones of New York.

Hoad and Rosewall's skill was the telling factor in their 9-7, 6-3, 6-4 victory over unseeded Gil Shea of Los Angeles and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Seixas of Philadelphia and Trabert of Cincinnati eliminated Pablo Eisenberg of Millburn, N. J., and Richard Gaines, Edgartown, Mass., 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

It was a great day for the Aussies, whose second and third-seeded foreign entries scored impressively.

Gil Turner Gets Nod

. . . Over Andrews

CHICAGO (AP)—In a battle of savage flurries that left both fighters battered and groggy before it was over, Gil Turner Wednesday night gained a unanimous 10-round decision over durable, game Al Andrews and started back on his way to welterweight contention.

The 23-year-old Turner, only a mild success as a middleweight since he was stopped by champion Kid Gavilan in a 147-pound title scrap two years ago, found a tiger in Andrews.

Seldom has a fighter absorbed such a beating in Chicago Stadium as the Superior, Wis. youth and then finished so strongly.

By the last round, Andrews, also 23, blasted Turner with long rights and left hooks and had him rocking, but the gritty Philadelphia Negro by that time had an overwhelming margin in points.

And, as Andres tired, Turner uncorked a vicious flurry that staggered his opponent as the bell ended the vicious brawl.

Anderson Leads Nebraska Team

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—R. Lee Anderson of Lincoln, Neb, warmed up on the back nine today and led the Nebraska team in the first round of the international Jaycee junior golf tournament with a 76.

Anderson was just six strokes off the pace going into the second round. Matt Taber of Lincoln was only one stroke back of him while Mike McCuistion of Lincoln ran into trouble all the way around and took an 81.

After taking a four-over-par 40 on the front nine, Anderson came back in even par 36.

Taber, in the day's first threesome, went out in 37 and took his 40 on the back side.

McCuistion was out in 40 and back in 41.

New Distance Mark

GAEVLE, Sweden (INS)—Audun Boysen of Norway bettered the world's 1,000-meter record Wednesday when he was timed in 2:19.5 at Gaevle. The recognized world mark is 2:21.3.

Another Charles Is 'Warmed Over'

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—A guy named Charles hit the road Wednesday after being bounced as a sparring partner for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Earle Charles, no relation to Ezzard Charles who meets Marciano again on Sept. 15, hitchhiked to the champion's camp and asked for a chance to work with Rocky.

After being bounced around for about 30 seconds by the champ Manager Al Weill advised him to go back to his job.

"I didn't get a chance to warm up," said Earle as he departed.

Ho Hum! Guinup Rides 4 More Winners

POEM
Oh, the two-dollar bettors
And the ten-dollar bettors,
How often they've been overheard to say:
"Chalk another win up
For Jockey Charley Guinup:
How many is that for the guy today?"

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Ralph Lilburn, a veteran jockey, had a fair day at the Fairgrounds Wednesday, riding two winners and two place horses.

But his feat was overshadowed by the continued hot riding of Charles Guinup, who rode four winners again. In the past three days, Guinup has been on 13 winners. Wednesday, he rode both ends of the daily double for the second time in three days.

Guinup's winners were Devil's Encore in the first, victor over Pug in a photo finish; Captain Buzz in the second, a three-length winner; Baby Valley in the fifth, one length over Sonny Pass; and Sea Champ, winner by a length in the eighth race at one mile and five-sixteenths.

The feature $1,200 Elks Purse went to Dinamico of the Ray Danner stables. Joe Provencio was aboard the winner, who made a strong drive in the stretch to win the five-furlong dash by a length over Propitious.

Heavy dough Wednesday was returned on Gay Club in the third race. Gay Club took the photo finish from Mor Orphan and paid $30.20.

Thursday's program features the running of the $1,200 Sowers purse.

Doubles Teams Show Top Form

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The top-seeded teams of Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, America's Vic Seixas and Trabert and defending women's titlists Doris Hart and Shirley Fry showed championship form Wednesday in their national doubles tournament victories.

Miss Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Miss Fry, Akron, Ohio, moved effortlessly through the quarter-finals in the women's competition with a 6-2, 6-0 triumph over Sachicko Kamo of Japan and Mrs. Grace Raymonde Jones of New York.

Hoad and Rosewall's skill was the telling factor in their 9-7, 6-3, 6-4 victory over unseeded Gil Shea of Los Angeles and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Seixas of Philadelphia and Trabert of Cincinnati eliminated Pablo Eisenberg of Millburn, N. J., and Richard Gaines, Edgartown, Mass., 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

It was a great day for the Aussies, whose second and third-seeded foreign entries scored impressively.

Gil Turner Gets Nod

. . . Over Andrews

CHICAGO (AP)—In a battle of savage flurries that left both fighters battered and groggy before it was over, Gil Turner Wednesday night gained a unanimous 10-round decision over durable, game Al Andrews and started back on his way to welterweight contention.

The 23-year-old Turner, only a mild success as a middleweight since he was stopped by champion Kid Gavilan in a 147-pound title scrap two years ago, found a tiger in Andrews.

Seldom has a fighter absorbed such a beating in Chicago Stadium as the Superior, Wis. youth and then finished so strongly.

By the last round, Andrews, also 23, blasted Turner with long rights and left hooks and had him rocking, but the gritty Philadelphia Negro by that time had an overwhelming margin in points.

And, as Andres tired, Turner uncorked a vicious flurry that staggered his opponent as the bell ended the vicious brawl.

Anderson Leads Nebraska Team

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—R. Lee Anderson of Lincoln, Neb, warmed up on the back nine today and led the Nebraska team in the first round of the international Jaycee junior golf tournament with a 76.

Anderson was just six strokes off the pace going into the second round. Matt Taber of Lincoln was only one stroke back of him while Mike McCuistion of Lincoln ran into trouble all the way around and took an 81.

After taking a four-over-par 40 on the front nine, Anderson came back in even par 36.

Taber, in the day's first threesome, went out in 37 and took his 40 on the back side.

McCuistion was out in 40 and back in 41.

New Distance Mark

GAEVLE, Sweden (INS)—Audun Boysen of Norway bettered the world's 1,000-meter record Wednesday when he was timed in 2:19.5 at Gaevle. The recognized world mark is 2:21.3.

Anotner Charles Is 'Warmed Over'

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—A guy named Charles hit the road Wednesday after being bounced as a sparring partner for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Earle Charles, no relation to Ezzard Charles who meets Marciano again on Sept. 15, hitchhiked to the champion's camp and asked for a chance to work with Rocky.

After being bounced around for about 30 seconds by the champ Manager Al Weill advised him to go back to his job.

"I didn't get a chance to warm up," said Earle as he departed.

Ike Expected To Sign New Ag Bill During Colorado Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only the signature of President Eisenhower is needed to make law of a farm bill that would let prices perform a greater role in guiding crop production.

Early Wednesday morning, the Senate completed congressional action on a controversial farm measure featuring a system of flexible price supports for the basic crops of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts. Officials said the President probably will sign the bill at his vacation place in Colorado next week.

Under the flexible system, price floors for the crops will operate on a sliding scale—moving down as supplies of an affected crop increase and going up as supplies decline. Under a war-born system to be supplanted, supports were at a rigid base, irrespective of supplies.

Next year the supports will range between 82½ to 90 per cent of parity and between 75 and 90 per cent thereafter, as things now stand. Present supports are at 90 per cent. Parity is a price declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to costs they must pay.

Needed Tools

In recommending and debating the new system, the Eisenhower administration contended that the high, rigid supports deprived agriculture of the needed tools for guiding its production. It said those supports encouraged farmers to produce big crops regardless of whether they were needed. As a consequence, large supplies which could not be sold were unloaded on the government under the support system.

Under the new plan, supports will be reduced when there are over-supplies, in an effort to discourage overproduction.

Nevertheless, next year's farm program will depend more upon government crop planting restrictions than on reductions in price supports to solve the surplus problem. Crop controls already announced by Secretary of Agriculture Benson are the most stringent ever imposed on American farmers. Growers must comply with these controls to get price supports.

The administration has said it opposes controls, but asserts that it must use them until the present surpluses are disposed of and the flexible price system can be given a chance to operate more or less on its own.

Wheat Surplus

The reduction in price supports on the basic crops next year will be relatively small, with the exception of wheat, which is plagued with the biggest surplus. Wheat is expected to drop to the 82½ per cent parity minimum. The other crops—corn, cotton, rice and peanuts—will be supported at 85 per cent of parity or higher. Tobacco will continue at 90 per cent.

The new bill takes into account the fact that a new formula for determining parity prices for corn, wheat, cotton and peanuts is scheduled to go into effect in 1956, but directs that the changeover be limited to 5 per cent a year until the new level is reached.

On the basis of present price relationships, the new formula would reduce parity for wheat about 39 cents a bushel below the present $2.50 parity, corn about 22 cents below the present $1.81, cotton about 1.8 cents a pound below the present 35.09 cents and peanuts about 1.8 cents a pound below the present 13.6 cents.

For A Total Of Over 100

J. N., H. P. and B. L. Anderson, brothers who have served a combined total of well over 100 years as denominational workers, are pictured at the 10-day annual Lincoln Convention of Nebraska Seventh-Day Adventists.

Three Lincoln Brothers Have Served Total Of 100 Years With Denomination

Three brothers now living in Lincoln have served as denominational workers for a combined total of more than 100 years.

They are J. N., H. P. and B. L. Anderson, all elders in the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Elder J. N. Anderson began his active ministry in 1892 and nine years later volunteered to become the first missionary to China from the denomination.

After serving there for a number of years he returned to teach in denominational schools, including Union College.

Going to Denmark in 1895, Elder H. P. Anderson was a missionary there for many years and later returned to teach in the United States.

The third brother Elder B. L. Anderson, began his ministry in 1900 as a tent meeting evangelist in Wisconsin.

Two years later he came to Lincoln to finish his college studies. He is one of six living members of the Union College class of 1904.

His 44 years as a missionary in China, where he went in 1905, make probably the longest term of overesas service for anyone in the denomination.

Rubber Workers Told Negotiations Still Stalemated

Members of Local 236, CIO Rubber Workers, heard a report Wednesday night that there has been no progress and no new developments in negotiations with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. against which the CIO union is striking.

The six-week old strike was called when negotiations over fringe benefits in the contract with the company broke down last month. More than 500 workers in the Lincoln plant are on strike. The report on negotiations was made by Willard Deigan, vice president of the local, at a meeting of the members.

Typhoon Dwindles

TOKYO (Thursday) (INS)—A typhoon that inflicted at least 74 casualties and wrought extensive damage in southern Japan was rapidly dwindling in force early today as it headed out over the sea. The storm, which had developed winds up to 130 miles per hour at its center, began diminishing after racking up a toll of 17 dead, 21 missing and 36 injured on Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu.

Sheppard Proclaims Innocence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, proclaimed his innocence in a 900-word statement Wednesday and insisted "I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world."

The 30-year-old osteopath reviewed the entire case, starting with the July 4 murder and ending in his first degree murder indictment Tuesday, and said in conclusion:

"I am not guilty."

His statement, which had no new information and took several slaps at Cleveland police authorities, was released by his brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard. Dr. Samuel Sheppard is locked up in the county jail, where he was returned following the indictment.

"I have told the police and other officials who questioned me all I know about the murder of my wife," Dr. Sheppard's statement said. "I have done this freely and willingly because I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world.

"I Loved My Wife"

"I loved my wife; we rejoiced that we were to have a second child, all the scandal and the gossip to the contrary. We had even given our unborn child a name and had named it Stephen Allen. The last three months of our married life was perhaps among the happiest that we enjoyed together."

Dr. Sheppard said some police in suburban Bay Village and the county seemed "genuinely interested in solving the crime" but contended the Cleveland police concentrated on attempting to secure a confession from him.

Referring to the inquest conducted by Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Dr. Sheppard said he waived all of his rights and "appeared before a hostile, scoffing crowd and for 5½ hours I answered under oath every question they asked me."

He said he later clammed up before police questioners only after hours and hours of quizzing and "when the questioning became insulting and abusive."

Congress May Quit Today 'If'

Solons Make Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress Wednesday night seemed really close to adjournment, and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said prospects are good for quitting Thursday "if nothing unexpected happens."

There remained that "if." Knowland, the Republican Senate leader, once aimed for adjournment by July 31 but a lot of things happened to ruin that.

President Eisenhower, who likes a vacation as well or better than most people, still hoped to be able to leave Washington Saturday morning for Colorado.

Congress continued to make progress Wednesday, after getting over some big humps earlier in the week.

Money Bill

By voice vote, the Senate passed and sent to Eisenhower a catchall supplemental appropriation bill of $1,659,000,000. It contains hundreds of items to supplement funds already voted for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Two hurdles that remained to be overcome were:

1. A bill to liberalize the old age pension system under social security. That, too, was in conference and differences were said to center on whether farm operators and professional people should be brought into the retirement system.

2. The bill to outlaw the Communist party and to penalize individual Communists. It has won favorable votes in both House and Senate, but administration leaders still were seeking some way to confine it to the party alone, not covering individuals.

6 Nations Gather To Discuss EDC Fate

BRUSSELS (INS)—Foreign ministers of the projected European Defense Community gathered in Brussels Wednesday night for Thursday's crucial six-nation conference which may settle the future of the European Army Treaty.

The ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands and Belgium will take part in the two-day conference at which sharp opposition is expected to France's controversial amendments to the treaty.

The proposed French revisions, submitted by Premier Pierre Mendes-France, would—in the opinion of most Western statesmen—weaken the defensive pact which would put half a million West Germans in the Allied camp in Western Europe.

The French Premier is expected to make a determined bid at the parley for adoption of his revisions to the EDC treaty, which, among other things, would reportedly provide for a "veto" over decisions taken and would give France more authority over its own troops.

Intense diplomatic activity marked the eve of the opening of the conference.

Mendes-France arrived in Brussels ahead of time and conferred with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak. Before leaving Paris, the French leader met briefly with British Ambassador Sir Gladwyn Jebb, just returned from a high-level conference in Britain.

Spaak later called on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer who arrived in Brussels in a fleet of seven cars. The Belgian minister also dined later in the evening with Johan Beyen and Joseph Bech, the foreign representatives of the Netherlands and Belgium respectively.

Diplomats of West Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands were working on a plan to persuade Mendes-France to modify his revisions and bring them closer to the original EDC proposals.

Mendes-France, however, is expected to take the stand that his amendments represent the best compromise obtainable which would be acceptable to the French Parliament, which has not ratified the treaty.

Failure of the French to act on the treaty stems from fears over German rearmament.

Italian Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni, whose country also has not ratified the pact, asserted on his arrival:

"European unification remains the first goal of Italy's foreign policy. It is in this spirit that we have come to Brussels. We hope to succeed."

Another arrival was U.S. Special Ambassador David K. Bruce, who reportedly succeeded in convincing Adenauer to accept the French proposals as a basis for discussion rather than reject them outright.

Diplomatic Setback

BRUSSELS (Thursday) (INS)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France suffered a diplomatic setback on the European Army Treaty issue Wednesday night when West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer pointedly ignored a request for private talks in advance of the Brussels conference opening today.

Authoritative sources disclosed that Mendes-France sent word informally through diplomatic channels that he would like to meet with Adenauer before the start of the two-day Brussels parley on the EDC treaty. But Adenauer never responded.

Yacht Safe

VALPARAISO, Chile (INS) — Naval authorities said that the American yacht Windjammer has arrived safely at Easter Island in the Pacific Ocean after having been lost at sea in a storm for seven days.

The vessel's four occupants were reported safe. Mrs. Peggy Poor of New Orleans, owner of the ship, was not on board when it was blown to sea during a storm last week off the coast of Chile.

The four occupants were Lester Cox, the pilot, a man identified as Gordon Nicolsey and two Chilean crewmen.

WHY DO YOU PREFER BLUE BONNET?

Mrs. Van Johnson, Beverly Hills, California, wife of the prominent movie star, lives constantly in the social spotlight.

"I choose BLUE BONNET Margarine for three convincing reasons. Its sunny-sweet flavor and smooth-spreading quality delight us at the table. Then, while it's loaded with nutrition especially valuable to children—food-energy and both vitamins A and D—it costs little. It definitely gives you all 3: Flavor, Nutrition, Economy!"

Ike Expected To Sign New Ag Bill During Colorado Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only the signature of President Eisenhower is needed to make law of a farm bill that would let prices perform a greater role in guiding crop production.

Early Wednesday morning, the Senate completed congressional action on a controversial farm measure featuring a system of flexible price supports for the basic crops of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts. Officials said the President probably will sign the bill at his vacation place in Colorado next week.

Under the flexible system, price floors for the crops will operate on a sliding scale—moving down as supplies of an affected crop increase and going up as supplies decline. Under a war-born system to be supplanted, supports were at a rigid base, irrespective of supplies.

Next year the supports will range between 82½ to 90 per cent of parity and between 75 and 90 per cent thereafter, as things now stand. Present supports are at 90 per cent. Parity is a price declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to costs they must pay.

Needed Tools

In recommending and debating the new system, the Eisenhower administration contended that the high, rigid supports deprived agriculture of the needed tools for guiding its production. It said those supports encouraged farmers to produce big crops regardless of whether they were needed. As a consequence, large supplies which could not be sold were unloaded on the government under the support system.

Under the new plan, supports will be reduced when there are over-supplies, in an effort to discourage overproduction.

Nevertheless, next year's farm program will depend more upon government crop planting restrictions than on reductions in price supports to solve the surplus problem. Crop controls already announced by Secretary of Agriculture Benson are the most stringent ever imposed on American farmers. Growers must comply with these controls to get price supports.

The administration has said it opposes controls, but asserts that it must use them until the present surpluses are disposed of and the flexible price system can be given a chance to operate more or less on its own.

Wheat Surplus

The reduction in price supports on the basic crops next year will be relatively small, with the exception of wheat, which is plagued with the biggest surplus. Wheat is expected to drop to the 82½ per cent parity minimum. The other crops—corn, cotton, rice and peanuts—will be supported at 85 per cent of parity or higher. Tobacco will continue at 90 per cent.

The new bill takes into account the fact that a new formula for determining parity prices for corn, wheat, cotton and peanuts is scheduled to go into effect in 1956, but directs that the changeover be limited to 5 per cent a year until the new level is reached.

On the basis of present price relationships, the new formula would reduce parity for wheat about 39 cents a bushel below the present $2.50 parity, corn about 22 cents below the present $1.81, cotton about 1.8 cents a pound below the present 35.09 cents and peanuts about 1.8 cents a pound below the present 13.6 cents.

For A Total Of Over 100

J. N., H. P. and B. L. Anderson, brothers who have served a combined total of well over 100 years as denominational workers, are pictured at the 10-day annual Lincoln Convention of Nebraska Seventh-Day Adventists.

Three Lincoln Brothers Have Served Total Of 100 Years With Denomination

Three brothers now living in Lincoln have served as denominational workers for a combined total of more than 100 years.

They are J. N., H. P. and B L. Anderson, all elders in the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Elder J. N. Anderson began his active ministry in 1892 and nine years later volunteered to become the first missionary to China from the denomination.

After serving there for a number of years he returned to teach in denominational schools, including Union College.

Going to Denmark in 1895, Elder H. P. Anderson was a missionary there for many years and later returned to teach in the United States.

The third brother Elder B L. Anderson, began his ministry in 1900 as a tent meeting evangelist in Wisconsin.

Two years later he came to Lincoln to finish his college studies. He is one of six living members of the Union College class of 1904.

His 44 years as a missionary in China, where he went in 1905, make probably the longest term of overesas service for anyone in the denomination.

Rubber Workers Told Negotiations Still Stalemated

Members of Local 286, CIO Rubber Workers, heard a report Wednesday night that there has been no progress and no new developments in negotiations with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. against which the CIO union is striking.

The six-week old strike was called when negotiations over fringe benefits in the contract with the company broke down last month. More than 500 workers in the Lincoln plant are on strike. The report on negotiations was made by Willard Deigan, vice president of the local, at a meeting of the members.

Typhoon Dwindles

TOKYO (Thursday) (INS)—A typhoon that inflicted at least 74 casualties and wrought extensive damage in southern Japan was rapidly dwindling in force early today as it headed out over the sea. The storm, which had developed winds up to 130 miles per hour at its center, began diminishing after racking up a toll of 17 dead, 21 missing and 36 injured on Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu.

Sheppard Proclaims Innocence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, proclaimed his innocence in a 900-word statement Wednesday and insisted "I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world."

The 30-year-old osteopath reviewed the entire case, starting with the July 4 murder and ending in his first degree murder indictment Tuesday, and said in conclusion:

"I am not guilty."

His statement, which had no new information and took several slaps at Cleveland police authorities, was released by his brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard. Dr. Samuel Sheppard is locked up in the county jail, where he was returned following the indictment.

"I have told the police and other officials who questioned me all I know about the murder of my wife," Dr. Sheppard's statement said. "I have done this freely and willingly because I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world.

"I Loved My Wife"

"I loved my wife; we rejoiced that we were to have a second child, all the scandal and the gossip to the contrary. We had even given our unborn child a name and had named it Stephen Allen. The last three months of our married life was perhaps among the happiest that we enjoyed together."

Dr. Sheppard said some police in suburban Bay Village and the county seemed "genuinely interested in solving the crime" but contended the Cleveland police concentrated on attempting to secure a confession from him.

Referring to the inquest conducted by Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Dr. Sheppard said he waived all of his rights and "appeared before a hostile, scoffing crowd and for 5½ hours I answered under oath every question they asked me."

He said he later clammed up before police questioners only after hours and hours of quizzing and "when the questioning became insulting and abusive."

Congress May Quit Today 'If'

Solons Make Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress Wednesday night seemed really close to adjournment, and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said prospects are good for quitting Thursday "if nothing unexpected happens."

There remained that "if." Knowland, the Republican Senate leader, once aimed for adjournment by July 31 but a lot of things happened to ruin that.

President Eisenhower, who likes a vacation as well or better than most people, still hoped to be able to leave Washington Saturday morning for Colorado.

Congress continued to make progress Wednesday, after getting over some big humps earlier in the week.

Money Bill

By voice vote, the Senate passed and sent to Eisenhower a catchall supplemental appropriation bill of $1,659,000,000. It contains hundreds of items to supplement funds already voted for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Two hurdles that remained to be overcome were:

1. A bill to liberalize the old age pension system under social security. That, too, was in conference and differences were said to center on whether farm operators and professional people should be brought into the retirement system.

2. The bill to outlaw the Communist party and to penalize individual Communists. It has won favorable votes in both House and Senate, but administration leaders still were seeking some way to confine it to the party alone, not covering individuals.

6 Nations Gather To Discuss EDC Fate

BRUSSELS (INS)—Foreign ministers of the projected European Defense Community gathered in Brussels Wednesday night for Thursday's crucial six-nation conference which may settle the future of the European Army Treaty.

The ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands and Belgium will take part in the two-day conference at which sharp opposition is expected to France's controversial amendments to the treaty.

The proposed French revisions, submitted by Premier Pierre Mendes-France, would—in the opinion of most Western statesmen—weaken the defensive pact which would put half a million West Germans in the Allied camp in Western Europe.

The French Premier is expected to make a determined bid at the parley for adoption of his revisions to the EDC treaty, which, among other things, would reportedly provide for a "veto" over decisions taken and would give France more authority over its own troops.

Intense diplomatic activity marked the eve of the opening of the conference.

Mendes-France arrived in Brussels ahead of time and conferred with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak. Before leaving Paris, the French leader met briefly with British Ambassador Sir Gladwyn Jebb, just returned from a high-level conference in Britain.

Spaak later called on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer who arrived in Brussels in a fleet of seven cars. The Belgian minister also dined later in the evening with Johan Beyen and Joseph Bech, the foreign representatives of the Netherlands and Belgium respectively.

Diplomats of West Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands were working on a plan to persuade Mendes-France to modify his revisions and bring them closer to the original EDC proposals.

Mendes-France, however, is expected to take the stand that his amendments represent the best compromise obtainable which would be acceptable to the French Parliament, which has not ratified the treaty.

Failure of the French to act on the treaty stems from fears over German rearmament.

Italian Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni, whose country also has not ratified the pact, asserted on his arrival:

"European unification remains the first goal of Italy's foreign policy. It is in this spirit that we have come to Brussels. We hope to succeed."

Another arrival was U.S. Special Ambassador David K. Bruce, who reportedly succeeded in convincing Adenauer to accept the French proposals as a basis for discussion rather than reject them outright.

Diplomatic Setback

BRUSSELS (Thursday) (INS)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France suffered a diplomatic setback on the European Army Treaty issue Wednesday night when West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer pointedly ignored a request for private talks in advance of the Brussels conference opening today.

Authoritative sources disclosed that Mendes-France sent word informally through diplomatic channels that he would like to meet with Adenauer before the start of the two-day Brussels parley on the EDC treaty. But Adenauer never responded.

Yacht Safe

VALPARAISO, Chile (INS) — Naval authorities said that the American yacht Windjammer has arrived safely at Easter Island in the Pacific Ocean after having been lost at sea in a storm for seven days.

The vessel's four occupants were reported safe. Mrs. Peggy Poor of New Orleans, owner of the ship, was not on board when it was blown to sea during a storm last week off the coast of Chile.

The four occupants were Lester Cox, the pilot, a man identified as Gordon Nicolsey and two Chilean crewmen.

Weigh Station Men Present Woes

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Employees at the state weighing station at North Platte visited the statehouse Wednesday seeking instructions on what to do with the mounting number of violators of the truck weight limitation law as revealed at the weighing station.

The employees brought to State Engineer L. N. Ress copies of 11 weight slips showing weights on tanden axles of from 34,040 to 35,120 pounds when the limit under the law is 33,600 pounds.

A temporary injunction has been obtained in District Court to halt further prosecutions and action by the court is now awaited on a final decision. If the injunction it made permanent, the state plans to appeal to the supreme court

11 Violations

In the 11 violations brought to the attention of Ress, seven were Colorado trucks, one from Kansas and only three from Nebraska. Colorado truckers are fighting the enforcement of the law

The weighing station employees reported that in a filling station in the vicinity of the weighing station a placard is posted on the wall advising truckers given weight violation tickets to contact a North Platte attorney.

The same attorney, records in the state auditor's office show, received state warrants during the months of June and July for $100 for professional services as a special assistant attorney general representing the department of aeronautics.

The attorney in a recent newspaper interview was quoted as saying that one truck weighed at the station circled around in view of the attendants and was weighed a second time with two different weight figures being recorded. This the attendants positively denied as not happening

Swing?—'Impossible'

It was also charged that attendants used the highest figures shown as the weight recorder swung back and forth before coming to an actual balance. This Ress explained is impossible because the scales work automatically and print the weight of the vehicle with no discretion being possible by the operator.

Pressure is being exerted on the State Highway Department to move the scales from North Platte to Ogallala or some other city where co-operation of law enforcement officials can be obtained.

The action by truckers in overloading bears out arguments of state legislators who opposed the "tolerance" law passed at the last session that it was just a method of permitting higher weight limits on trucks. The truckers lobby argued that passage of the law would stop overloading because higher fines were made possible.

The battle that has developed at North Platte is causing some senators to discuss the advisability of repealing the "tolerance" law at the next session.

Abel Submits Low Randolph By-Pass Bid

Abel Construction Co has submitted the low bid of $59,816.80 for construction of the Randolph St by-pass from 21st and G to 24th and G

The contract also calls for construction of an access road from 24th and G up to Randolph. That section of the by-pass will eventually become a part of the southeast diagonal.

Construction of the by-pass will permit the closing of Randolph which in turn will allow the Board of Education to go ahead with plans for the construction of the Lincoln High School activities building over the existing Randolph right-of-way. The city and Board have worked together on the project and are sharing the costs involved

The estimate on the by-pass was $61,500 Other construction projects on which bids were received at the City Hall.

Skelton Injured

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—A freak accident late Wednesday by Red Skelton while rehearsing for his TV show, resulted in a concussion and almost a broken neck for the comedian.

Red was wearing a wooden collar and was supposed to go through a fake door. Apparently the door wasn't as fake as it was supposed to be, because the collar caught, [illegible] and knocked him unconscious. He was taken to Dr. Stanley Immerman's office where X-rays were taken. At first it was thought that he had a broken neck, but other than a slight concussion he was pronounced okay.

Weigh Station Men Present Woes

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Employees at the state weighing station at North Platte visited the statehouse Wednesday seeking instructions on what to do with the mounting number of violators of the truck weight limitation law as revealed at the weighing station.

The employees brought to State Engineer L. N. Ress copies of 11 weight slips showing weights on tanden axles of from 34,040 to 35,120 pounds when the limit under the law is 33,600 pounds.

A temporary injunction has been obtained in District Court to halt further prosecutions and action by the court is now awaited on a final decision. If the injunction it made permanent, the state plans to appeal to the supreme court.

11 Violations

In the 11 violations brought to the attention of Ress, seven were Colorado trucks, one from Kansas and only three from Nebraska. Colorado truckers are fighting the enforcement of the law.

The weighing station employees reported that in a filling station in the vicinity of the weighing station a placard is posted on the wall advising truckers given weight violation tickets to contact a North Platte attorney.

The same attorney, records in the state auditor's office show, received state warrants during the months of June and July for $100 for professional services as a special assistant attorney general representing the department of aeronautics.

The attorney in a recent newspaper interview was quoted as saying that one truck weighed at the station circled around in view of the attendants and was weighed a second time with two different weight figures being recorded. This the attendants positively denied as not happening.

Swing?—'Impossible'

It was also charged that attendants used the highest figures shown as the weight recorder swung back and forth before coming to an actual balance. This Ress explained is impossible because the scales work automatically and print the weight of the vehicle with no discretion being possible by the operator.

Pressure is being exerted on the State Highway Department to move the scales from North Platte to Ogallala or some other city where co-operation of law enforcement officials can be obtained.

The action by truckers in overloading bears out arguments of state legislators who opposed the "tolerance" law passed at the last session that it was just a method of permitting higher weight limits on trucks. The truckers lobby argued that passage of the law would stop overloading because higher fines were made possible.

The battle that has developed at North Platte is causing some senators to discuss the advisability of repealing the "tolerance" law at the next session.

Abel Submits Low Randolph By-Pass Bid

Abel Construction Co. has submitted the low bid of $59,816.80 for construction of the Randolph St. by-pass from 21st and G to 24th and G.

The contract also calls for construction of an access road from 24th and G up to Randolph. That section of the by-pass will eventually become a part of the southeast diagonal.

Construction of the by-pass will permit the closing of Randolph which in turn will allow the Board of Education to go ahead with plans for the construction of the Lincoln High School activities building over the existing Randolph right-of-way. The city and Board have worked together on the project and are sharing the costs involved.

The estimate on the by-pass was $61,500. Other construction projects on which bids were received at the City Hall:

Re-surfacing of 17th, Sewell to Lake, Abel Construction Co., $2,041.50.

Resurfacing of A, 17th to 21st, Abel, $8,063.50.

Paving of Huntington, 63rd to 64th and 64th, Huntington to Baldwin, Dobson Bros. Construction Co., $10,031.45.

Sewer in the alley between Orchard and Y from 68th to 69th, Hub Sollars Construction Co., $602.

Paving of 10th, Calvert to Bancroft, Dobson, $3,005.50.

Paving of Greenwood, 54th to 56th, Dobson, $5,459.80.

Paving of Lake, 34th to 35th, Dobson, $3,274.50.

Water in Judson, 8th to Lewis, Meints Bros. Construction Co., $5,004.50.

OMAHA (AP)—A combine of Donovan Construction Co., and Foley Bros. Inc., of St. Paul, Minn., supplied the apparent low bid on the last major project to be started at the Gavins Point dam and reservoir on the Missouri River.

Negro Achieves First

WASHINGTON (INS)—Assistant Labor Secretary J. Ernest Wilkins achieved an historic first for his race when he became the first Negro to participate in a cabinet meeting as a department head. The 60-year-old Wilkins, formerly a Chicago attorney, sat in at the regular weekly session of the cabinet for Labor Secretary James Mitchell, who was filling a speaking engagement in New Jersey.

Skelton Injured

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—A freak accident late Wednesday by Red Skelton while rehearsing for his TV show, resulted in a concussion and almost a broken neck for the comedian.

Red was wearing a wooden collar and was supposed to go through a fake door. Apparently the door wasn't as fake as it was supposed to be, because the collar caught, strangled Red, and knocked him unconscious. He was taken to Dr. Stanley Immerman's office where X-rays were taken. At first it was thought that he had a broken neck, but other than a slight concussion he was pronounced okay.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Winsome Churchill has already copped a plea in Egypt on the Suez Canal. Which Winnie says is as defenseless as a bird nest on the ground.

Winnie is coppering his own statement that he did not become her majesty's prime ribs of beef to preside at the partition of the empire.

From the nickel seats that looks like what he's doing. He explained to an all-ears Parliament the Suez was as vulnerable as an idiot in a spelling bee. We happen to have the same kind of arrangement in Panama. Which we intend to defend to our last bad breath.

Stock Mart Lists Slowest Session

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was thoroughly mixed Wednesday in the slowest session in more than a week.

Strength in selected stocks acted as a counterbalance to the numerous minor declines.

Volume slowed to 2,390,000 shares from 2,900,000 Tuesday. It was the lowest total since Aug. 10, when 2,280,000 shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 20 cents at $134.40. The utility component rose 30 cents to a new 1954 high of $65.10. But the railroad component could only muster a 10-cent increase while industrials ended unchanged.

The market opened at a brisk pace but with prices completely irregular. The tempo decreased as steels, aircrafts and oils weakened. At mid-morning, the market began to recover from its lowest levels.

The American Stock Exchange was generally lower as volume declined to 670,000 shares from 800,000 Tuesday.

Stock Mart Lists Slowest Session

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was thoroughly mixed Wednesday in the slowest session in more than a week.

Strength in selected stocks acted as a counterbalance to the numerous minor declines.

Volume slowed to 2,390,000 shares from 2,900,000 Tuesday. It was the lowest total since Aug. 10, when 2,280,000 shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 20 cents at $134.40. The utility component rose .30 cents to a new 1954 high of $65.10. But the railroad component could only muster a 10-cent increase while industrials ended unchanged.

The market opened at a brisk pace but with prices completely irregular. The tempo decreased as steels, aircrafts and oils weakened. At mid-morning, the market began to recover from its lowest levels.

The American Stock Exchange was generally lower as volume declined to 670,000 shares from 800,000 Tuesday

U.N. Reports World's Farmers Paid Less For Producing More

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (Thursday) (AP) — The world's farmers are getting paid progressively less for producing steadily more, yet the cost of food to consumers has not gone down.

This was reported in an exhaustive annual survey of the world food situation for 1954, issued Wednesday by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), headquarters here.

"The widening gap between the cost of food at the farm gate and the cost to the consumer" was linked by FAO to five other trends:

1. "Heavy surpluses of certain commodities have accumulated in some countries although there has been little improvement in the diet of millions of inadequately fed people . . .

2. "the gradual decline of wholesale farm prices and of farm incomes is likely to continue through 1954. The reduced purchasing power of the farm population is already being felt in other sections of the economy . . .

Distribution Costly

3. "Marketing costs represent from 30 up to 50 per cent, and at times nearly 70 per cent, of the food costs to the consumer.

4. "World trade in foodstuffs has become static at almost exactly the 1934-38 prewar level. The static condition is in sharp contrast to the steady expansion of agricultural production, and indicates that a gradually diminishing proportion of the world's output is entering international trade. .

5. "Food production per capita is still four to five times greater in North America and Oceania, the surplus producing sections, than in the Far East, Near East and Africa, the sections of greatest want. . . ."

Gain In Production

FAO reported that in 1953-54, for the second successive year, world food production increased nearly 3 per cent at a rate faster than the world's gain in population (1½ per cent).

FAO said this increase in 1953-54 was less than in the preceding year, and added:

"Fully half the world's people are still inadequately housed, clothed and nourished."

The summary said one of the most critical problems was that of the surpluses which have piled up—wheat in the United States, Canada, Australia and the Argentine; sugar in Cuba, and coffee in Central and South America.

"Wheat represents the crux of the problem," the report said.

"Stocks of wheat held by the four major exporting countries—United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina—increased by some 12 million tons (33 per cent during 1953-54) and now represent about 2½ times their normal level of exports. The carry-over at the end of 1954 is likely to show a further increase . . ."

Sharp Rise In Holdings

FAO said the value of all holdings of the United States Commodity Credit Corp.'s stocks of agricultural products rose from $3,066,000,000 in March, 1953, to $6,229,000,000 in March, 1954.

"Falling agricultural exports account for only part of this increase," FAO said. "For example, in the United States the increase in the value of government-held stocks in the 12 months to March, 1954, was more than five times the fall in the value of agricultural exports . . .

"There was no decline in the high level of domestic demand for farm products. Nevertheless, the continuing fall in farm and wholesale prices in North America was reflected only to a very limited extent in lower retail prices and can have had little effect in stimulating consumption."

U.S. Seeks $8,238 From Wahoo Pair

A U. S. complaint against the Wahoo (Neb.) Warehouse, a partnership of Ernest F. Schiefelbein and Furd E. Anderson, seeking a $8,238.68 judgment has been filed in Federal Court.

The two-count complaint alleges $8,238.68 in damages for failure of the defendants to deliver 2,760.95 bushels of corn under a price support purchase agreement with the Commodity Credit Corporation in 1952.

The amount sought includes $3,879.13 as the alleged value of the undelivered corn. The second count of the complaint enjoins the American Surety Company of New York as alleged surety carrier of the defendants.

U.N. Reports World's Farmers Paid Less For Producing More

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (Thursday) (AP) — The world's farmers are getting paid progressively less for producing steadily more, yet the cost of food to consumers has not gone down.

This was reported in an exhaustive annual survey of the world food situation for 1954, issued Wednesday by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), headquarters here.

"The widening gap between the cost of food at the farm gate and the cost to the consumer" was linked by FAO to five other trends:

1. "Heavy surpluses of certain commodities have accumulated in some countries although there has been little improvement in the diet of millions of inadequately fed people . . .

2. "the gradual decline of wholesale farm prices and of farm incomes is likely to continue through 1954. The reduced purchasing power of the farm population is already being felt in other sections of the economy . . .

Distribution Costly

3. "Marketing costs represent from 30 up to 50 per cent, and at times nearly 70 per cent, of the food costs to the consumer.

4. "World trade in foodstuffs has become static at almost exactly the 1934-38 prewar level. The static condition is in sharp contrast to the steady expansion of agricultural production, and indicates that a gradually diminishing proportion of the world's output is entering international trade. .

5. "Food production per capita is still four to five times greater in North America and Oceania, the surplus producing sections, than in the Far East, Near East and Africa, the sections of greatest want. . . ."

Gain In Production

FAO reported that in 1953-54, for the second successive year, world food production increased nearly 3 per cent at a rate faster than the world's gain in population (1½ per cent).

FAO said this increase in 1953-54 was less than in the preceding year, and added:

"Fully half the world's people are still inadequately housed, clothed and nourished."

The summary said one of the most critical problems was that of the surpluses which have piled up—wheat in the United States, Canada, Australia and the Argentine; sugar in Cuba, and coffee in Central and South America.

"Wheat represents the crux of the problem," the report said.

"Stocks of wheat held by the four major exporting countries—United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina—increased by some 12 million tons (33 per cent during 1953-54) and now represent about 2½ times their normal level of exports. The carry-over at the end of 1954 is likely to show a further increase . . ."

Sharp Rise In Holdings

FAO said the value of all holdings of the United States Commodity Credit Corp.'s stocks of agricultural products rose from $3,066,000,000 in March, 1953, to $6,229,000,000 in March, 1954.

"Falling agricultural exports account for only part of this increase," FAO said. "For example, in the United States the increase in the value of government-held stocks in the 12 months to March, 1954, was more than five times the fall in the value of agricultural exports . . .

"There was no decline in the high level of domestic demand for farm products. Nevertheless, the continuing fall in farm and wholesale prices in North America was reflected only to a very limited extent in lower retail prices and can have had little effect in stimulating consumption."

U.S. Seeks $8,238 From Wahoo Pair

A U. S. complaint against the Wahoo (Neb.) Warehouse, a partnership of Ernest F. Schiefelbein and Furd E. Anderson, seeking a $8,238.68 judgment has been filed in Federal Court.

The two-count complaint alleges $8,238.68 in damages for failure of the defendants to deliver 2,760.95 bushels of corn under a price support purchase agreement with the Commodity Credit Corporation in 1952.

The amount sought includes $3,879.13 as the alleged value of the undelivered corn. The second count of the complaint enjoins the American Surety Company of New York as alleged surety carrier of the defendants.
